Soldiers Who Went Into the Hottest Fighting in France Arrive at New York With Laurels Won in Battle

Men from Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Other Bay Cities Among Gallant Lads Decorated for Their Bravery

NEW YORK, April 2.—It was California's two days along the Battery; especially was it San Francisco Bay's two days. Soldiers from Oakland and Berkeley, Alameda and San Francisco and the neighboring back country sent to fight for democracy came home in numbers. Some came back as they went; others bore marks of the fighting through which they had gone; many wore on their uniforms glistening marks of bravery.

There was Lieutenant James Boyd Jr., of the University of California with his Croix de Guerre, and Lieutenant Henry S. Bailey also of Berkeley, with his D. S. C. Corporal Anton Boscacci brought with him an unusual medal, a Belgian star cross. Lieutenant Forest A. Cobb of Berkeley was another officer returning as well as Captain Carlton B. Jockell, the Berkeley Italian, and Captain W. A. Stewart of the same city.

Heroes welcomed by Mayor Rolph.

The steamships Leviathan, Liberator, Oriana and others brought the men, members of the 91st, 131st, and other detachments with which they fought. They came on the heels of the 363d, another bay region unit. That group, met in the harbor by Mayor James Rolph Jr., of San Francisco, and a party of bay region residents, returned to the city last evening for Camp Merritt where its demobilization will be hastened.

The 363d came on board the Kentonian, 1200 strong. They were commanded by Brigadier General Vernon A. Caldwell. Other men of the 363d, not all of which could be crowded aboard the Kentonian, were also arrivals today. The group yesterday left St. Nazaire on March 21.

With 12,053 troops on board, the steamship Leviathan arrived here from Brest, France, today. The 91st division units were 40 officers and 3471 men, the 131st division units, 27 officers and 1044 men, and 77 officers and 1044 men, and 77 officers and 1044 men, and 77 officers and 1044 men.

Mayor Thompson Is Re-Elected by Chicago Voters

WILLIAM HALE THOMPSON

With Opposition Forces Divided Executive Piles Up 17,600 Plurality

CHICAGO, April 2.—Practically complete returns today give William Hale Thompson, Republican, a plurality of 17,600 votes over County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer, Democrat, in the mayoralty election yesterday. State's Attorney MacKay Hoyne, running as an independent, and who in election betting had been counted on giving Thompson a hot fight, finished a poor third, receiving less than one-half the vote given Sweitzer.

John Fitzpatrick, labor candidate, polled a total vote of 54,467. John M. Collins, Socialist candidate, received but 23,105 votes. The Republicans gained three seats in the city council. The new council will be composed of 45 Democrats and 25 Republicans.

Harry A. Lewis, Republican, was elected judge of the Superior Court and George E. Holmes, Republican, was elected municipal judge. The majority vote follows: William Hale Thompson, Republican, 159,863; men, 98,026; total, 257,889. Robert Sweitzer, Democrat, men, 147,248; women, 33,040; total, 240,288. MacKay Hoyne, Independent, men, 67,795; women, 45,102; total, 112,897.

John Fitzpatrick, labor, men, 41,320; women, 13,147; total, 54,467. John M. Collins, Socialist, men, 14,800; women, 8,245; total, 23,045. Adolph Carmi, Socialist-Labor, men, 1229; women, 486; total, 1715.

CHICAGO, April 2.—Commenting on the re-election of William Hale Thompson as mayor of Chicago, local newspapers today said: Tribune: "We regret his re-election. He won by a plurality of 17,600, but it was not a majority. Many there will be this morning to despair of the Democratic system of government, at least for a long while. However, nothing better has been devised." Daily News: "Winning, as he did, by a fluke, the mayor plainly has been repudiated by a large majority of the voters. Lack of united effort against the unworthy mayor has brought about the result. A minority mayor, he holds office not by virtue of any confidence still felt in him by the community."

CHICAGO VOTE STARTS NEW WET CAMPAIGN

Repudiation of National Prohibition Is Aim of Liquor Forces Encouraged by Overwhelming Municipal Victory

"Personal Liberty" Leaders Say Country-Wide Protest Will Be Sent to Congress Against Enforcing Dry Law

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEAD WIRE TO TRIBUNE

CHICAGO, April 2.—The pronounced wet vote in the election here yesterday was said by "personal liberty" leaders to mark the beginning of a campaign to repudiate national prohibition. The wet vote was 391,260; the dry 144,882.

Out of every five men voted wet, and three out of every five women did the same. The Trades Union Liberty League issued the following statement:

"There will now be no let-up in the protest against prohibition. The defeat of the drys Chicago has spoken in tones that will ring in the ears of those subservient lawmakers who have so cravenly surrendered the liberty of American citizens at the dictation of a clique of paid prohibition lobbyists."

"I am not surprised at the result. We have no fight in Chicago. To have done so would have been to dishonor the acts of Congress. The efforts of Chicago wets to use Chicago results in an effort to terrify Congress and the Supreme court is little short of scoundrelous."

The wet and dry election was planned for two years ago, but court proceedings delayed it until yesterday. The prohibition amendment to the Constitution, which was the issue on the ballot, of its importance except as allowing an expression of sentiment, was advanced by both the wet and dry camps. The amendment carried, Chicago saloons would have been compelled to close May 1 next.

WISCONSIN CITIES GO FROM "DRY" TO "WET" MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 2.—In the state a number of cities voted from "dry" to "wet," including Madison, Beloit, Superior, Edgerton, Stoughton and Ashland.

GILROY VOTES TO STAY DRY IN DRY COUNTY OAKLAND, Calif., April 2.—An oasis in a desert of dry towns, Gilroy citizens yesterday defeated a dry ordinance in one of the hardest fought elections in the history of the town. The ordinance, which was the issue on the ballot, of its importance except as allowing an expression of sentiment, was advanced by both the wet and dry camps. The amendment carried, Chicago saloons would have been compelled to close May 1 next.

BARK GOES ASHORE AT POINT REYES

Captain Ulburg of the Albert Reported to Have Met Death in Disaster Thirty Miles North of San Francisco

Crew of Ten Men Believed to Have Landed, According to Message Received by the S. F. Chamber of Commerce

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Captain Ulburg, of the bark Albert was reported to have met his death today when the bark went ashore at Point Reyes, thirty miles north of San Francisco, according to a message to the Chamber of Commerce here.

The crew of ten men was believed to have landed. It is believed that the captain was killed, as a rescue has been made to the weather bureau to notify the coroner of Marin county.

The vessel went ashore in a dense fog.

TWO BUILDINGS WRECKED WHEN PUMP EXPLODES

Two buildings were almost completely wrecked when a high pressure machine used in the manufacture of aniline dye was blown 75 feet into the air at the California Ink works, Third and Camella streets, Berkeley, this morning. The damage is estimated between $25,000 and $30,000 by L. H. Lewars, manager of the plant.

The machine is known as an autoclave and is operated at a pressure of 1000 pounds. It is believed that spontaneous combustion of aniline gas in the vicinity of the machine may have caused the mishap.

The machine, which weighed two tons, was blown through the roof of the building in which it was housed and after going seventy-five feet into the air crashed down upon the roof of an adjacent building known as the varnish building. Both buildings were badly damaged.

A number of men were in the vicinity of the accident but no one was hurt.

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—A courtship of seven years with an attentive and considerate suitor, followed by marriage life of one year and four months with a nagging and ungenerous husband, was the story told in Judge Craig's court here today by Ruth Roland, famous film beauty. She was granted a divorce from Lionel Edward Kent, former automobile salesman, later in the military service. Miss Roland's married name, it developed, was Ruth R. Kent.

Vatican Protests To Lenine Bring Sarcastic Reply

ROME, April 2.—A sarcastic reply has been received by the Vatican to a note addressed to Nicolai Lenine, protesting brutalities against Russian church men, it was revealed by the Osservatore Romano today. It was not known until this publication was made that the pope had made an appeal in behalf of the Russian clergy.

The Bolshevik foreign minister, Tchitcherin, declared that "all Russians are equal regardless of religion," and charged the Russian priests with hoarding food while the people were starving.

"INFLUENCE" IN MISS POLLOK'S CASE CHARGED

Efforts are being made to prevail upon Federal Judge Frank H. Rudkin, who was trial judge in the Sacramento L. W. W. case, to return here from Seattle and hear the application for a new trial made by attorneys for Miss Theodora Pollok, formerly a resident of Epidem and an official of the International Workers' Defense League; Albert L. Fox and Basil Saffores, the latter secretary of the Italian branch of the L. W. W. in San Francisco.

The trio were found guilty with 40 other L. W. Ws. on charges of conspiracy and violation of the espionage act at Sacramento January 15 last. The jury returned a silent defense during the trial, were not represented by counsel and were sentenced immediately after their conviction and are now serving terms in the penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

In the case of the other three application for new trial was made and sentence was not passed. The application heard, Judge Rudkin returning to Seattle immediately after the trial. Nothing has been done since.

Gossip that influence was being brought to bear in Washington in the case of Miss Pollok by Mrs. William Kent, wife of Congressman Kent, caused the department of justice across the bay, through Robert G. Goss, a Washington attorney, to take action today in an endeavor to prevail upon Judge Rudkin to grant a new trial in the case of Miss Pollok.

A deposition warrant in the case of Saffores is being held up pending the action of Judge Rudkin in the Sacramento case. All are at liberty, according to Johnston this morning, on nominal bail, considering the seriousness of the indictment upon which they were convicted.

GERMAN REDS RISE AGAIN Lenine Makes Peace Overtures

GERMANS ARE READY TO QUIT DANTZIG BLUFF

Lenine Said to Have Made Concrete Proposal from Russians to End Hostilities; Peace Treaty Is Speeded Up

PARIS, April 2.—Germany will not persist in her opposition to the use of Dantzig by Polish troops on the way from France to Poland, according to advice reaching Paris today for Spa to meet the German representative to discuss the Dantzig question. The marshal had a long conference Tuesday with Premier Clemenceau.

A delegation of American Jews, including Colonel Harry Cutler, Louis Marshall of New York and Judge Julius W. Mack of Chicago, was given a hearing today by the American peace delegation on the proposition to include in the covenant of the league of nations a section protecting the interests of Jewish and other minority populations in backward states.

PARIS, April 2.—There is now before the peace conference a definite and concrete proposal from the Russian government for cessation of hostilities. It bears Premier Lenine's signature.

There is also authoritative information that Karl Rautsky, German minister in Moscow, is now in Moscow trying to arrange a formal alliance between Germany and Russia.

In the light of these two facts, the peace delegates are giving more thought to Russia than they did previously. It is believed that the Russian proposal is a serious one.

PARIS, April 2.—Preliminary decisions upon the most important questions before the peace conference will be reached before Saturday, according to the belief expressed in certain official quarters today.

MEANWHILE Marshal Foch is expected to make plain to Mathias Erzberger at Spa tomorrow that the allies will stand for no trickery of any sort at Dantzig or any other place.

Allied Troops Dissolve Soviets In Hungary

LONDON, April 2.—The Hungarian soviets have been dissolved in all territory occupied by allied troops, said a Central News despatch from Vienna today.

The Bolshevik movement is spreading toward Prague, the despatch added. Prague is the capital of Czechoslovakia.

PARIS, April 2.—The attempt to introduce Bolshevism into Poland by means of a general strike has ended in complete failure, according to information received from Warsaw today. The Bolshevik demonstrators received rough treatment at the hands of the Socialists. The leaders of the Bolshevik mobs were ducked in canals to cool their ardor.

STOCKHOLM, April 2.—The populations of the Lithuanian towns of Jonkalniai, Trakai and Landava revolted against the Bolsheviks. On March 23, drove away the Soviets and destroyed their administrative offices according to advice from Kovno today. The Bolshevik troops were disarmed and many of them killed.

COFENHAGEN, April 2.—A serious riot broke out in Copenhagen today. Workers are in full swing at Berlin, said a despatch from that city today. A state of siege has been proclaimed in the Ruhr district, where a strike in progress has been arrested. Rioting has taken place at Frankfurt-on-Main.

In Westphalia a large number of towns have been occupied by government troops. No food reached the towns in the Ruhr district. Sabotage and food riots are raging throughout the Ruhr district, following the declaration of a general strike. In many towns the food supply has been cut off. MANY KILLED IN FIGHTING IN CIVIL WAR

General Strike Proclaimed in Berlin; Armored Cars and Machine Guns Belch Death in Revolution in Stuttgart

RIOTING BREAKS OUT AGAIN IN FRANKFURT; RHINELAND DISTRICT ALL IN STATE OF SIEGE; HUNDREDS PUT UNDER ARREST

AMSTERDAM, April 2.—Violent street fighting, in which many persons have been killed, is raging between government troops and strikers at Stuttgart, said a despatch from that city this afternoon. Armored cars and machine guns are being used.

PARIS, April 2.—A Copenhagen despatch to Le Matin today declared a general strike has been proclaimed in Berlin. The government, expecting an extensive outbreak, is said to be preparing to repress it ruthlessly.

FRANKFURT, via Copenhagen, April 2.—Rioting broke out here again today. All the available military forces were rushed to the scene of the disorders. As this despatch was sent the fighting was continuing. Demonstrators searching the child burgomaster's house discovered large stores of meat, eggs and flour. Three hundred persons accused of hounding strikers have been arrested. Disorders due to the shortage of foodstuffs have been recently intensified by a reduction of the potato ration from five to three pounds.

The strike at Berlin and in the Rhineland industrial belt is probably the threatened coup of the Spartacists to start an "industrial revolt." On previous occasions the German reds have begun a serious revolutionary movement and each time the uprising was preceded by a general strike. The Spartacists were expected that the Spartacists would wait until May day before beginning another movement.

LIEUT. BAILEY OF BERKELEY WINS HONORS

A sidelight on how Lieutenant Bailey of Berkeley won his honors was given by Colonel Cavanaugh. He said: "Lieut. Bailey was seriously wounded while leading his men in the advance, a bullet striking him in the right arm and cutting an artery. Despite his injuries, Lieutenant Bailey bandaged up his injured arm with the aid of several of his men, tying a piece of cord tightly around his arm above the elbow to stop the flow of blood, and continued in the battle for several hours afterward, until his commander ordered him back to the hospital for treatment. He was decorated with a D. S. C. for his gallantry." One message directly from an Oakland boy Mayor Ralph will bring back home with him. During the reception time Sergeant Fletcher Pence of Oakland called out to him: "Tell them all back home that we are well and anxious to see the old town." "We're going home together," said the mayor.

But it seems more probable, according to Colonel Cavanaugh, that the men will be at least four days, maybe more, in Camp Merritt. They are to be hustled through as rapidly as possible.

The account of war front happenings given by Lieutenant Bailey of Berkeley was of interest. He declared that out of 5 officers and 172 men in the machine gun company who went into the fight in the Argonne, two of the officers and 56 of the men had been killed there, while about 55 others had been wounded among the enlisted personnel. Boyd said:

"When we went into that Argonne battle on the 26th of September, you would have thought that the men were going to a baseball game, they were so unconcerned."

"On the third day of the offensive September 29, Lieutenant J. C. Kreutz was killed by an exploding shell, and on October 4, just one hour before the time set for us to be relieved from the line, Lieutenant T. A. Starr was blown to bits by a direct hit of a shell from a German barrage, put one over at the beginning of a counter-attack, which was frustrated. Both of these officers were of the machine gun company."

"The machine gun company, under Lieutenant Boyd's command, was in action practically every day from the time they went into action on September 26 until the armistice was signed on November 11."

all of his staff officers were either killed or wounded.

The 363d landed in France on July 26, 1918, and went into training near Chaumont, entering the trenches near Verdun the following September. After taking part in the Meuse Argonne battles from September 24 to October 4 it went to Belgium, where on October 21, from a position near Lys, it began an attack that continued across the Scheldt river and seven kilometers east of that stream, when the armistice was signed. While most of the boys in the 363d are Californians, the regiment being known as the San Francisco regiment, a number of them are also from Oregon, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho and Utah.

The 91st Division, known popularly as the "Wild West" or "Powder River" Division, was state, suffered between 6000 and 7000 casualties, of which the 363d Regiment had 1700, of whom 700 were killed. The division was cited seven times for bravery. Its nickname of "Powder River" was taken from a Montana stream, which the soldiers said was "a mile wide and an inch deep."

Lieutenant Boyd returned in command of a machine gun company in the 363d. He wore a Croix de Guerre for gallantry in action in wiping out machine gun nests. Sergeant Alan J. Marshall of San Francisco was the possessor of an American D. E. C. He displayed great bravery in action. Private Frank Sembratrand of San Francisco mounted a machine gun in No Man's Land 15 yards from the enemy's trenches and destroyed two German machine gun nests.

Lieutenant Bailey won his D. S. C. for extraordinary courage in action. Although wounded in the right arm, he remained in action 24 hours and led a charge against an enemy machine gun nest near Very on September 26 and allened it.

OTHER HEROES RETURN
The winners of regional medals of honor were also aboard the Kentuckian. They were Sergeant Chester S. West of San Francisco, who killed two enemy machine gunners in a hand-to-hand fight, and Sergeant Philip Katz, also of San Francisco, who repeatedly crossed No Man's Land under a grilling fire and brought in many wounded men.

Major Paul F. Johnson of Holly Grove, California, regimental surgeon of the 363d, escaped without a scratch, although of the seven medical officers in his command, two were killed, three were wounded and one was invalided by sickness.

Mess Sergeant Edward C. Johnson of San Francisco, when the artillery fire was hot, harnessed up three of his cooks in his kitchen, and pulled the food wagons over No Man's Land to shell holes, where they were able to feed scores of wounded men. The Sergeant and the cooks—Frank Kurtz and Joe Gandolfo of Sonoma, Cal., and Victor Triome of Fortuna, Cal., received French war crosses for their valor and devotion to duty.

GALLANTRY RECOGNIZED
Others who were recognized for gallantry in action were Sergeant Albert C. Prossley of Salem, Ore., who wore a D. S. C., for capturing single-handed a German machine gunner and twenty prisoners, and Corporal Escobar of Oakland, who brought with him his Belgian war cross.

Brikader General Caldwell, who is a regular army officer, said he joined the 182d Infantry brigade, in Belgium and commanded it in the closing weeks of the war. He wore a Belgian war cross, but declined to be considered a hero.

Mayor Ralph, despite a disagreement when he was refused permission to go upon the pier in Brooklyn and welcome the homecoming westerners, was none the less jubilant and enthusiastic in his greeting. He said the San Francisco boys "would get the greatest home coming welcome of any regiment in the American army," that the city would take a holiday and that the soldiers would receive "a real old-fashioned cordial western welcome."

WILL BE HOME SOON.
The San Francisco executive declared that all arrangements had been made, after the men have been gone the prescribed sanitary regulations at Camp Merritt, to bring them home without delay, which probably would be within two weeks after which they would be mustered out at the Presidio.

Other officers who returned were Lieutenant Forest A. Cobb, Berkeley, California; Lieutenant Emmitt Britton of San Francisco; Captain Lloyd D. Rauch of Salem, Ore.; Captain R. P. Shields of San Diego, Calif.; Captain Charles M. Rose of Portland; Captain James M. Stewart of San Francisco; Captain Joseph J. Egan of Berkeley; Captain Stewart of Berkeley; Captain Manton D. Armstrong of Salem, Ore.; Captain Darwin J. Smith of Sacramento, Calif.; Captain John W. Richards of Sparrows, Wash.; Major Walter A. Garrison of Los Angeles, California.

ORPHANS SOUGHT AFTER RUNAWAY

Should you see a treckled-faced boy with very shabby clothes and a hunted look; in fact, with a general appearance of not being like other boys who have good clothes and play in the free air, you will know that he has escaped from an orphanage. Tell the police at once. The Boys' and Girls' Aid Society would like the police that they will know Odin Blood, 16 years old, who has been seen to hang around the wharves where the ships go out to sea.

Young Blood is one of four boys who were tempted by the warm spring air to run away—two of them from home and the third from another orphanage. Emil Schulten, 8 years old, who was placed in the Fred Finch orphanage Saturday by his mother, who lives in San Rafael, did not return yesterday after he had gone out to school. The police have been asked to help find him.

Frank Conaskey, 11-year-old, who wore a blue waist, gray pants and an old coat, has run away from his home at 1625 West street, his mother reports.

Victor Hayden, 10 years old, is missing from 5024 Webster street, the police have been told by his father, E. W. Hayden.

MACHINISTS TO ACT UPON PEACE OFFER

Machinists' Union No. 58 is to meet tomorrow to determine action on a telegram from James O'Connell, president of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor. This action is expected to help toward peace between the striking machinists and the shipyards. This telegram, sent to Secretary Daniel P. Hagerty of No. 58 of San Francisco, said that if the strikers would return to work they would receive the Saturday half-holiday, effective this week, and that the shipyard employers would use their good offices to secure the men in the outside shops their retroactive pay and the half-holiday.

Labor men about the bay say this is the nearest approach to peace that has yet been made. Some doubt over it is cast, however, by Frank P. Drake, president of the California Metal Trades Association.

"I don't believe," he said, "that any shipbuilder here made any such proposal as O'Connell mentions."

Further word from O'Connell is expected.

The Metal Trades Association and the shipyard operators met last night to discuss the probable date of closing the shipyards if the machinists do not return to work.

The result of the meeting was not announced, but it is understood that the shipyard owners consider the possibility of a settlement of the differences near hand.

A. S. Gunn, assistant general manager of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation in San Francisco, returned last night from Washington, and in a conference with members of the Metal Trades Association on the results of the meetings in the capital between government representatives, shipyard owners and union leaders.

Gunn would not comment on his trip.

'BILL' HAYWOOD AND 37 OTHERS TO QUIT PRISON

CHICAGO, April 2.—William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World, and 37 other I. W. W. will be released at once from the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth as a result of the action taken today by the United States circuit court of appeals, which granted them liberty under bond.

Haywood's bond was fixed at $25,000 and the others in most instances at $10,000 each.

In granting the defendants release on bonds, the court of appeals acted on the theory that counsel for the defense had presented sufficient argument to show that there is a question on which the conviction of Haywood and his fellow defendants could be carried into the courts of appeals.

"I don't believe," he said, "that any shipbuilder here made any such proposal as O'Connell mentions."

Further word from O'Connell is expected.

Plea for State Aid in Sutter By-Pass

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—The obligation of the state to assist the Sacramento valley land owners in building the Butte-Sutter by-pass is before the legislature today. A public hearing on the subject was addressed last night by M. Dozier, engineer of the state reclamation board; L. Schilling, representative of the Sutter county district that was flooded in February due to uncompleted by-pass levees; and R. T. Devlin, speaking for district 1500 around which the levees are completed.

The legislature has before it bills providing for $2,000,000 state aid in the building of the $10,500,000 artificial river course, which the by-pass really is.

The percentage of women workers in industries in April 1918, was 37.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Mrs. Louise Loesch, 2380 Bryant street is dead at the age of 68, and Mrs. Isabelle Murphy, her daughter, 11 on the point of death as the result of inhaling escaping gas at their home Monday night. The aged woman got up in the night to make some broth for her daughter, who was ill. She forgot to turn off the gas and the escaping fumes overcame them after they had fallen asleep again. Neighbors broke into the house the next morning, having detected the smell of the gas. There were three children asleep in the house, grandchildren of the dead woman, and they narrowly escaped asphyxiation.

ESTATE MUST PAY INHERITANCE TAX

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—The estate of Charles W. Howard, president of the Spring Valley Water Company, estimated to be worth over $1,000,000, will have to pay an inheritance tax on the entire amount, according to a decision yesterday by Judge Stewart.

The amount of the tax has not been determined. The estate, under the will, was bequeathed in varying sums to relatives, and the rate of taxation varies with the degree of relationship of the beneficiaries, a cousin, for instance, being more heavily taxed than a widow or child.

Howard died in 1908. Five years previously he created his estate into the Howard Investment Company and provided that his son, Howard, should be paid $500 a month from this estate; his daughter, Maud, $350, a like sum to his widow, Emma Shafter Howard, from whom he was separated, and $50 a month to each of the four children of his brother-in-law, A. Goodrich.

Three years after Howard's death his widow sued for a community share in the estate, and shortly after this was decided in her favor she died. The estate then brought suit to collect inheritance taxes on the entire estate on the theory that the judgment giving Mrs. Howard a community interest in the estate was made after the adoption of the inheritance tax laws and therefore the entire estate was liable for taxes. Judge Stewart sustained this contention.

DR. HUTTON WRITES NEW SUICIDE NOTE

BERKELEY, April 2. — Belief that Dr. John A. D. Hutton, well known Berkeley dentist, has carried out his suicide threat was strengthened today with the receipt of a second letter by Mrs. Hutton from her husband, reiterating his determination to end his life.

The second letter, which reached Mrs. Hutton today, was written from the Terminal Hotel, San Francisco, on Monday afternoon, the day Dr. Hutton dropped from sight. In it Dr. Hutton bade good-bye to his children and expressed his love for his wife.

"It will do no good to hunt for me," he wrote, as he did in his first note found Sunday evening at his home, 2150 Stuart street. "I am going to end it all. I will not be a burden with blindness coming upon me."

Mrs. Hutton is prostrated today at her home and under the care of physicians.

That Dr. Hutton may have suffered a hemorrhage of the brain and is wandering around in a dazed condition was a theory advanced by the police.

"My father has evidently carried out his threat," declared Mrs. Helen Hutton Martin, teacher in the Oakland school department today. "We hope that the police theory may be true. He acted

Postmaster Heals Family Breach Newcomer Forgets to Meet His Wife

Samuel Ginsburg once of San Diego, now of Oakland, has learned that this is a large city, the postmaster over-looks a few strangers who breeze in and fall in love with the place, and that it is a friendly people who live hereabouts. Moreover, he has learned that his wife obeys orders and that it is up to a man to do something more than plan. However, both Mr. and Mrs. Ginsburg are happy today. Ginsburg was happy all the time. He had a new love. It was Mrs. Ginsburg who served.

A fortnight ago Ginsburg arrived in Oakland, went into estates over the community, decided San Diego was no place to live; determined to go into business here, and wired his wife to dispose of what they possessed in the south and come hither.

She came. She arrived only a few days later than her husband. She neither read nor wrote in the English language. Her Hebrew was all Hebrew to the strangers whom she met at the hotel. Her husband was missing. She had wired the Oakland postmaster as he had instructed and sent the letter which told of her coming. Postmaster Joseph J. Rotherg had never heard of Ginsburg. Ginsburg forgot to call for the wire and the letter. Oakland had won him.

Tag and bassack, the frail little woman threw herself on the protection of the federal official. He discovered that it was Hebrew in which she was versed. She discovered that he asked her to write full particulars in her familiar tongue. She told the whole tragedy and wept.

The Jewish welfare league of Oakland was called into service. They translated the letter. They took the lone, elderly stranger and comforted her. They found her friends among her own people and in a private home. They began to comb the city for one Ginsburg, formerly of San Diego, who had lived his wife hither because he had chosen a new place to live.

Misguidedly unconscious that anything was amiss, Ginsburg was seeing the town from the top of the "rubber-neck" and by railway. He wished his wife would hurry along.

Yesterday Ginsburg was a crestfallen husband. He was found, today Mrs. Ginsburg declares she does not blame her husband at all. She is in love with Oakland, one Postmaster Joseph J. Rotherg and the people too.

The letter that was forgotten, and the letter that was forgotten.

DIVORCE PLAINTIFF WEEPS AS WIFE

Mrs. Carrie Thompson, wife of Bernard Thompson, a marine engineer and recently employed in shipbuilding by Alachua and Babcock, wept on the witness stand today in Judge Dudley Kinsey's court when asked if she did not still love her husband, defendant and cross-complainant in her suit for divorce.

Mrs. Thompson declared her love for Thompson, said she always had loved him and that she did not want a divorce. She said the trouble between them was caused by Captain and Mrs. Rustad, with the United States ship building administration at Seattle. She said that while her husband was in Seattle, Mrs. Rustad, "hooked over him," and gave him many attentions that he became dissatisfied. She introduced letters written from her home, last year, in which he addressed her as "darling wife," and implored her to hasten to Seattle.

In her complaint, filed since their recent separation, she alleges that he swore at her and said he wanted to divorce her.

He replied to the suit, alleging intemperance. When the case came to trial she refused to substantiate her allegations, declaring she was not a divorcee, and only offered testimony in retaliation of his cross-complaint.

She said that her husband received $300 a month and asked for $200 a month. She said her husband's expenses at $155 a month. Their home was formerly at 5457 Taft avenue, Oakland.

WAR SECRETARY PAYS TRIBUTE TO NEWSPAPERS

WASHINGTON, April 2. — Informally announcing today the discontinuance of the war department's system of telegraphing casualty lists to San Francisco and Chicago for distribution by the press associations, Secretary Baker made this statement:

"It is with profound gratitude that we approach the end of the American expeditionary force casualty lists—grateful that the price of victory, in human life and limb, was not greater."

"The war department has been conscious of the splendid public service the newspapers have been rendering to the people by the prompt and accurate publication of the casualty lists from day to day, that the supreme sacrifices made by officers and men of our forces abroad might be known to their friends and relatives at home."

SORORITY GIRLS ATTEND FUNERAL

BERKELEY, April 2. — With sorority sisters paying a last tribute, funeral services for Miss Emma Stewart, student at the University of California, were conducted this afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Stewart, 2225 Vermont avenue.

Miss Stewart died suddenly while eating dinner at a loving cup at the sorority house for having attained the highest scholarship of the Greek letter society at the university.

Nineteen years of age and a girl of unusual attraction, Miss Stewart achieved high honors for her work on the campus, her name having recently been entered on a loving cup at the sorority house for having attained the highest scholarship of the Greek letter society at the university.

She was also a victim of ability and was a member of the staff of the Daily Californian, serving the college publication as one of the women editors during the last year.

Her parents, Miss Stewart is survived by a sister, Miss Helen Stewart.

Funeral services this afternoon were conducted by Rev. P. A. Martyr of St. Clement's chapel. Cremation followed.

URNS SON INTO STREET IN HOPE OF HIS ARREST

Donald McKinnon, 11 years old, was turned loose in the streets this morning by his mother in the hopes that the police would pick him up and take him to the Detention Home, according to the mother's own story to the police.

McKinnon, who lived at 1722 Ninth street, was picked up while begging. When his mother reached the police station she refused at first to take him back. She asked that he be sent to the home. She says she has applied to have the boy admitted to institutions because he has epileptic fits, but that the institutions have refused to take him.

The police refused to take him to the home and Mrs. McKinnon took him back to her home.

2 WIVES FAIL IN ATTEMPTS TO DIE

Two despondent Oakland wives who yesterday attempted to end their unhappiness by suicide, are today recovering. Mrs. Frances Bray, wife of W. E. Bray, 7222 Lockwood street, who shot herself in the left breast, is at Providence hospital, and Mrs. William Chalmers, 912 Seventh street, a bride of only five weeks, who inhaled gas, was taken home after being resuscitated at the Receiving Hospital.

According to relatives of Mrs. Bray, her attempt at self-destruction was the culmination of a long series of unhappy domestic incidents. It was said that on Sunday her husband went away and did not return home. Yesterday she sought him at his place of employment, the Southern Pacific shops, and remonstrated with him. They went home together and he complained of his home and expressed the desire to secure a divorce.

Mrs. Bray went into the house and procured a revolver shot herself. The bullet entered above her heart, deced by the breast bone and emerged at the shoulder. The wound was not serious. They have been married since 1916, and she is only 26 years old.

Mrs. Chalmers, according to neighbors, displayed jealousy toward her husband of five weeks, whom she says neglects her. Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock H. A. Blanchard, a neighbor, detected the odor of escaping gas and went to the Chalmers apartments to investigate. The door was barred and chairs braced against it. It was forced open and Mrs. Chalmers was found unconscious, gas escaping from an unlighted heater.

Chalmers works at the Moore Ship-building plant.

Dry-Law Enforcement Bill Up to Governor

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—The legislature finally disposed of the Hays prohibition enforcement bill today when the Senate concurred in amendments made in the Assembly after the measure had been passed by the Senate. It now goes to the Governor for his signature.

The principal amendment inserted by the Assembly was one creating "a prohibition enforcement fund" to be used by the State Pharmacy Board in the administration of the law. The amendment provided that persons to whom permits were issued to handle intoxicating liquors for non-beverage purposes should be charged a license fee of $5. Alcoholic beverages containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol are defined as intoxicating liquors by the act.

Republicans Unite on Roo's League Plan

WASHINGTON, April 2. — Republican members of the House today united on the Roo's league plan for the league of nations is up to the Roo's amendments, it was indicated in political quarters here today.

"I am pleased with Mr. Roo's program," said a Republican leader. "The proposed amendments as outlined in Mr. Roo's recent communication to us are entirely satisfactory."

BANKER DIVORCED FOR SECOND TIME

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2. — Because of J. Levi, member of the banking firm of J. Levi & Company, would not give up his past life," according to the testimony, he is again a bachelor. His wife, formerly Annabelle Lieberthal, has secured a divorce from him, said Judge E. M. Shortall.

Mrs. Levi alleged "temperamental cruelties," and her corroborating witness, Mrs. Harold Brown, 1811 Vallejo street, testified that Levi, in the month of January, 1918, after his first wife, Pearl (Babcock) Levi, secured a final decree of divorce.

Property rights were settled in an agreement that provided for the payment of $200 a month for the maintenance of the wife and child.

Levi and Pearl Babcock, the first wife, eloped to Independence, Iowa, where they were secretly married in March, 1917. A month later the first Mrs. Levi filed suit for $150,000 damages against Herman Levi and Mrs. Annie Levi, her father-in-law and mother-in-law, charging they had alienated the affections of her husband. A few months later she sued for divorce. In a property settlement following a decree the wife was awarded $200 a month for her support. The suit against Levi's parents was dismissed by consent.

ANTHONY HELD ON NEW WARRANT

VALLEJO, April 2.—Through the issuance of a new warrant on a second charge, applied for by the probation officer, the police officers were arranging for bail on the original charge. P. C. Anthony, depositor superintendent of the Good Templar's home, and accused of a felony, is still in jail at Fairfield, where he was held to answer by Judge J. A. Brown on testimony of children in the home, had expected to be bailed out on the charge of grand larceny, but the court, while his attorney, Joseph Smith, was arranging for this Probation Officer K. A. Blanco, with the deposition of other children in the home, obtained a new warrant on a second charge from Judge J. A. Brown.

Anthony will be brought from the county jail some time this week to Vallejo to stand trial on the new charge. The bonds on the first charge, furnished by Dr. G. A. Barnes of Santa Cruz and P. S. Evans, in the sum of $4000, have been approved by the superior court in Fairfield, but no bonds can be set in the new case until after an arraignment.

The new charge, according to Anthony's friends, is a move by the District Attorney's office to keep him in jail, it being said that the prosecution disapproves of the prisoner being admitted to bail of less than $5000.

CHILDREN HURT IN AUTO WRECK

Two children, aged 3 and 4 years, each received a fracture of the left leg and four adults narrowly escaped serious injury today at noon in an automobile collision at East Sixteenth street and Twenty-seventh avenue. The children are Woodrow Wilson Craft, age 3, and June Craft, age 4, the latter the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Craft, 2412 Pearl avenue. The children are at the receiving hospital.

The Crafts, with the two children, were driving toward town on Twenty-seventh avenue. Dr. James M. Anderson of the Anderson Sanitarium, 2335 Twenty-fourth avenue, was bringing a patient, William Nelson, to the receiving hospital. The machines collided at the street intersection and the occupants were thrown violently out. Mrs. Craft escaped with a sprained ankle and the others were unharmed.

Woodrow Wilson Craft, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Craft, was hurled more than twenty feet, and that he escaped with only a broken leg is considered remarkable.

The Craft car was most damaged, a rear wheel being broken off. The responsibility for the accident has not been determined.

GOVERNOR TELLS INITIATIVE VIEWS

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—Governor William D. Stephens issued a statement today saying that the proposed Senate constitutional amendment No. 5 "contains a blow at the fundamental principles of the initiative" and that "such an attack cannot be endorsed by him."

The proposed amendment, which is pending before the Senate constitutional amendments committee was introduced by Senator Gates. It would raise the initiative requirement for signatures on petitions relating to tax matters from 8 to 25 per cent.

Gates told the committee at a recent meeting that the purpose of the amendment was to make it difficult to place a single tax initiative measure on the ballot at state elections.

Governor Stephens said he had received many letters asking him to define his attitude on the proposed amendment.

"The right of the people to avail themselves of this important instrument of the government (the initiative) should not be curtailed," he said, "it is better to tolerate some abuses than to impair this great factor in free government."

"Initiation that would weaken the initiative would be a distinctly backward movement."

H. A. GALLAGHER COMMITTS SUICIDE

H. A. Gallagher of Oakland, acting assistant manager of the American Chicle Company, 745 Battery street, San Francisco, shot himself at his desk in the company's offices some time between 8 and 8:30 this morning and died at the Harbor emergency hospital. He left a note that his brother, George Gallagher of Berkeley, be notified.

According to the brother, Gallagher had been depressed for the past two weeks, but neither he or Mrs. Gallagher, who was summoned from their home, 611 Hildesheim avenue, could give any reason for Gallagher's act.

According to Mrs. Gallagher he left home this morning apparently in good spirits at 7 o'clock. He was found slumped before a typewriter when he opened the door of his private office.

Gallagher was lying across his desk, the revolver he used having dropped into the waste basket, where it was later found. His disappearance for a time causing a theory that he had been murdered.

Faintly but still breathing, he was removed to the Harbor emergency hospital by officers who had been called in by the frightened girl.

OFFICERS STOLE IN RAID, CHARGE

District Attorney Ezra W. Deane and Deputy Ollie Hamlin Jr. are in Sacramento today attending to county business at the Legislature. Pending their return an action will be taken, it is said, in the name of the Alameda Chinese for warrants for the arrest of members of the Board of Pharmacy squad who last Sunday morning raided the Alvarado (Chinatown) looking for opium and who, according to the Chinese, took a sum of money and jewelry valued at $125.

It is declared that only two deputies from the department were in the raid and that they took along ten volunteers, one of whom is a drug addict. It is believed that if any volunteers were taken they were so taken by others than the regular deputies.

The sheriff's office is continuing the investigation. The sheriff says it is unusual for the department to raid places looking for drugs without taking along members of his staff. In the past that has been the custom, he says, and there has never been a complaint.

Four Dishonorable Discharges in Army

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The dishonorable discharge of four second lieutenants for various infractions of army regulations was announced by the War Department this afternoon. They are: Second Lieutenant N. P. Laverne, Company F, First Infantry, for being absent without leave at Camp Gordon; Second Lieutenant John P. Scarborough, 29th Infantry, for being drunk in uniform on a train in Louisiana; Second Lieutenant Lee C. Murphy, 71st Infantry, for being drunk at Camp Meade; and Second Lieutenant Raymond Newell, 7th Regiment, Field artillery, for passing worthless checks on the Malden, Mass., bank at Camp Jackson, S. C. Newell's sentence, however, was commuted by President Wilson to a reprimand and confinement to the limits of the post for three months.

Drake's Bay Defense Sought by Senators

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 2.—That Drake's Bay, just north of San Francisco harbor, should be protected with modern coast defense fortifications and long-range guns is urged in a Senate resolution introduced today by Senators Scott and Slater. The bay is likened, in the document, to an "Achilles heel," by which the state and nation are exposed to attack.

Sir Francis Drake erected fortifications here in 1577. No more have ever been built. The resolution asks the federal government to take action.

Veteran Nurses to Assemble Tomorrow

The recent cablegram sent by Colonel Levenson, stating that the orders for the return of the members of Base Hospital No. 47 were definite, will be discussed.

DRIVER FAINTS AS HER AUTO HITS 3 WOMEN

Mrs. J. Danhauser, 301 Nielsen avenue, Albany, is in a dying condition, and Mrs. Roy Powell, Berkeley, and Mrs. F. Van Tassel, Albany, are suffering from severe injuries as the result of an accident last night when an automobile, driven by Mrs. Edward Nivola, ran over them as they alighted from a San Pablo avenue car.

Mrs. Nivola, who was leaning to drive, and was at the wheel for the second time, is suffering from nervous shock. She says she became "tattered" while driving.

Mrs. Danhauser, who was the most seriously hurt, was hurled heavily to the pavement, sustaining a wrenched spine and concussion of the brain. Mrs. Powell is suffering from cuts and bruises and possible internal injuries. Mrs. Van Tassel is suffering from a broken leg, the result of being struck by a speeding machine at Twentieth street and San Pablo avenue. She is unable to give any description of the machine.

17 ACTORS UPSET.

Seventeen local vaudeville actors and actresses are today recovering from painful bruises and lacerations and Miss Dottie Wilson, one of the party, is seriously injured, as the result of an auto accident last night, when a machine, loaded with the Oakland performers, and including Peggy Le Baron, Ned Norworth, Billie Clayton, Miss Wilson and Edie Fox, was run into by another machine at Post and Twenty streets, San Francisco. The machine in which the actors were riding turned over, throwing them to the sidewalk.

The Oakland party had gone to San Francisco after the show to spend the evening with Fox across the bay. They had the machine being top-heavy and over-loaded, probably caused the accident. Fox escaped unhurt. Miss Wilson suffered bad sprains and will not be able to appear for some weeks.

SEVEN TONS OF MUSSELS IN PIPE

Dealers in fish and other sea foods have no reason to fear competition from the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. according to H. N. Mosher, engineer at the gas plant at First and Fillmore streets, who says that the fact that the company unintentionally accumulated seven tons of mussels in the first ten months.

After twelve men had spent eight strenuous hours a few days ago digging and shoveling mussels from a 12-inch pipe at the gas plant, there was a young mountain of mussels piled up near the gate, and pressure by wonder of the light and power company was gone to engage in a new industry.

These mussels, "dug up" like topsy, according to Mosher, and developed in the pipe since it was laid down, about ten months ago. Water is brought from the estuary by gravity through a concrete culvert six feet, three inches in diameter, a distance of 250 feet and deposited in a sump. There is a pump at the sump, which forces the water through a 60-inch pipe, 125 feet in length, to the condenser of the gas plant. After the water is used for cooling purposes it is returned to the estuary.

The pipe is covered with a comparatively fine mesh, according to Mosher, who says that the mussels do not come alive from the salt water. "Many persons may believe that mussels were removed from the pipe in the comparatively short distance between the pump and the condenser, when the concrete tunnel is cleaned out the engineer expects some ten or twelve more tons of mussels."

KING'S ENGLISH BUTCHERY OVER LIBRARY 'PHONE

Do words mean what they say? The telephone department of the Oakland Free Library will say they do not. Moreover, they will say that the King's English is dead, buried and covered over with moss and cypress. Thus does the public appeal to them to renew a book which is about to become due after the proper introductory pleasantries have been exchanged between the operator, the subscriber and the library attendant.

"Please, may I renew the Library?"

"May I hold on to it for another couple of weeks?"

"Please an extension on my book."

"Give me a hold on my book."

"Take my order for prolonging it."

"Please change the due date."

"Please postpone the time of due."

With so many more variations as there are books to renew.

Pianiste Tires and Stanford Loses Out

Stanford University has lost but the University of California has gained a concert by the pianiste Ethel Leginska, who has created so much of a furore in the east. Leginska's itinerary included a stop at the Palo Alto music union, but so strenuous has been her work that she has wired her western managers to cut her out of her schedule. One of those cut out was the Stanford date but April 24 at the Oakland Auditorium and April 25 at Wheeler Hall, Berkeley, were not removed. Miss Leginska is to remain in Oakland during her recitals on this side of the bay.

Ask for New Baby Lima Beans

Whether you eat at home or in a public dining place, ask to be served with California Baby Lima Beans.

These fine-flavored, tender little beans, when properly cooked, will cause you to smack your lips with satisfaction. They are so rich in nourishment—so sustaining—that you can make a meal of them without feeling the need of meat.

The fact is that beans contain more proteid and a higher fuel value than the choicest beef.

NEW CALIFORNIA BABY LIMA BEANS

AT A PRICE NOT TO EXCEED 12c a Pound

This pre-war price is made possible by the growers and distributors banding together to market the beans without speculation. It represents only a small profit above the actual cost of production.

Dried beans should be soaked in water over night before cooking. That makes them tender and digestible. Prepare Baby Limas according to the following recipes and you will say that you never knew beans could be so good.

State Market Director HARRIS WEINSTOCK

Cut Out These Recipes and Save Them.

Baby Lima Bean Salad

Two cups cooked baby lima beans, one-half teaspoon onion juice, or one finely-chopped onion, or one finely-chopped chives; one tablespoon sliced green peppers or pimientos, salt to taste, dash cayenne. Mix and then add the following dressing: Three tablespoons salad oil; one-half tablespoon lemon juice; one tablespoon mild vinegar, less if liked, one-half teaspoon salt, dash cayenne. Blend well and serve the salad on crisp lettuce leaves.

Baby Lima Puree For Sandwiches

Work through a sieve one cup baked beans. To the puree add one-quarter teaspoon onion juice, one or two tablespoons tomato catsup sauce, or one teaspoon Spanish Worcestershire sauce, salt, dash cayenne. Slightly butter thin slices of whole wheat, brown or wheat bread, then spread on the seasoned bean mixture. The bean puree should be thick.

Curtains, Collars & Outlets CHEER-UP COLUMN

By Elsie Robinson.

Good Evening, Sister.

Did you ever see such gorgeousness

as there is in the stores now? Even the calicoes are designed with giegles

on them. Never were there such colors, never such sparkly

do-dads, and never such prices.

Oh! to be sure,

yes! But why boom? I was in the store the other day, mortgaging

my eternal soul to buy something I didn't have the slightest need of

and having a glorious time generally.

An' down the aisle comes an old

She Gran-pu-

about 250 pounds

tonnage—an' full of morality and

wee. I don't know what she was

after—hair cloth

shirt or thumb screws, probably—but while she was getting there she was preaching her views in large, curled accents. According to her the world was on its way to the eternal bow-bows and all these fripperies was just

so much makin' faces at death.

Well, praps that's so. The world is surely going somewhere an' it's making the dickens of a racket getting there.

But whether we're headed for the UCI

mate Dlight or a Joyful Awakening I don't see where wrappin' oneself in midweek is going to help things. If the Jumping Oil place is the next station,

why? for one, am going to get what satisfaction I can out of these new beaded trimmings before I jump. And if the Golden Age is upon us, I'll be all ready for the dress circle when the show begins.

"Take it any way you want, a GIN'S

the thing. It's the best sporting bet

there is. You can't lose by it and it may make your everlasting fortune. It don't up to us to manage the universe.

We don't have to see where the world is going nor even try to push it much on its way. There's a Bigger Brain than ours on that job. We just have to comport our features. And this here child is going to compose hers so they turn up.

As for what the She Gran-pu said about "makin' faces at death," I can't imagine a better way to make of a face. I never pretended to be friends with that Old Boy, any way, and if making faces at him will win the beach between us I'm all for it. I'm continuously like the worst five minutes of a tummy ache.

Aw! come on, sister—let's forget

there's such a thing as trouble in the world. Let's pile the dishes and put on our prettiest and go out and run up a bill for useless do-dads. Never mind

if it does cost a little and is altogether

foolish, as long as it puts that chipper

feeling into our pros it's a better investment than gold bonds.

Speaking of blitheness, could anything be kavier than a dragon fly party dress? A little person I know bunt out in one the other night and her body friends have worn green to match their eyes ever since. The foundation dress was made very simply.

A snug waist of green in a delicate bluish green, with short sleeves of the same net that formed the rather full overskirt, which was cut in points. The net and satin were of the same shade.

The long, tight underskirt was of net

of a deeper shade and bound with an inch wide fold of chiffon cloth of a deep French blue. A fold of this same chiffon cloth edged the sleeves. Both sides were bound by silver cord. The underskirt was slashed on both sides and edged with multitudes of tiny silver buttons. Then came the dragon flies.

They were with wings like the real ones, all four wings of the same size. Their application was most simple.

The four wings were basted on, centering

at one point. They are then outlined with silver cord. The whole outlining and body of the fly made with the eye piece or cord as shown in the plan. Now this sounds very simple, and is, but the truly gorgeous part lay in the color-emerald jewels. They were put on in a ring and jewelry. The flies were cut from emerald green, lavender, French

blue and black satin—the cord was silver and each fly was jeweled with four

Informal Affairs of Week Are Many For Society

Mid-Lenten days are busy ones for the Eastbay smart set who are engaged in extending counter-courtesy. Especially will this be the case throughout the month of April—just before the rush of Easter weddings—and there will be quite a number of them, among them, the Hind-Edwards ceremony April 23; that of Helene Ritchie and Harold Newsom April 21, and of Miss Ruth Kelsey and Lieutenant Philip Gier, U. S. A., the following month.

Claremont Country club was the setting for a large affair, a musicale and tea presided over by Mrs. Charles A. Dukes yesterday afternoon, some two hundred and fifty guests calling from San Francisco and the peninsula as well as from the cities this side of the bay.

Never did the clubhouse, attractive as it is in its setting of verdure, look more alluring, the spacious rooms within abounding with brightly-colored fruit blossoms and the more delicate flowers that bloom in the spring—tulips, hyacinth, daffodils and jonquils.

Mrs. Dukes and her close friends were assisted by the young daughter of the hostess, Miss Dorothy Dukes, and ten of her sorority sisters, members of the Phi Beta Phi woman's fraternity at college.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Dukes were Mrs. Clarence H. Terry, Mrs. F. B. Henderson, Mrs. Elliott E. Davis, Mrs. Elvira Wagon, Mrs. Raymond Arthur Perry, Mrs. Edward Gordon Garden, Mrs. J. P. Smith, Mrs. W. W. Crane, Mrs. C. O. Edwards, Mrs. Thomas Nichols, Mrs. Frank Carpenter, Mrs. John Dornin, Mrs. W. S. Rheem, Mrs. George Gray, Mrs. W. R. L. Campbell, Mrs. Vernon Hardy.

MANY INVITATIONS FOR CHURCH WEDDING

The latter part of this month five hundred invitations are to be issued for the wedding of Miss Ruth Kelsey and Lieutenant Philip Gier, U. S. A., the ceremony to be a military one with all appointments attendant upon such an affair, at St. John's Presbyterian church, Berkeley, Wednesday evening, May 14. A wedding reception is to follow the church ceremonial at the home of the bride's father, Dr. J. Edson Kelsey, and for this invitations are to be sent to only intimate friends and relatives.

There will be a bevy of charming belles as bridal attendants, with Miss Frances Worden as maid of honor and the coterie of bridesmaids—Miss Harriet Campbell, Miss Anita Ingram, Miss Mary Porter and Miss Marjory Scott. The bride party is to be completed with a matron of honor and little flower maiden while a group of army officers will attend. The wedding trip is to be through the east, where the couple will visit relatives of the prospective bridegroom.

LUNCHEONS OF THE WEEK

A series of spring luncheons is to be given at the lovely home of Mrs. Walton Norwood Moore in Piedmont, Crocker Highlands, the first of which will be tomorrow afternoon when a score of friends have been asked for an afternoon of bridge, followed for a prettily-appointed luncheon. The next afternoon will be a week from today when an equal number of guests will be invited to a similar affair.

Tomorrow afternoon a group of friends will share the hospitality of Mrs. Alexander Mary who will entertain at bridge followed by an informal tea. The affair is planned for different little coteries of friends of the hostess.

A group of ten friends of Mrs. Julius Young were her guests at luncheon this afternoon, the hostess entertaining at her home in Palm Avenue.

MISS EVA HIND, whose marriage to Lieutenant-Commander Francis Edwards, U. S. N., the latter part of this month is to be a social event in Berkeley, at St. Mark's Episcopal Church. —Boyle, photo.

Another pretty affair was the luncheon given by Mrs. George Rothanger today for a number of her friends who comprise the personnel of a card club. Mrs. Rothanger's home in San Pablo avenue was the setting for the party.

HANDSOMELY APPOINTED TEA AT HENSHAW HOME

The residence of Mrs. Tyler Henshaw was the scene of a large gathering for the younger set this afternoon, when Mrs. Merrill Dow, daughter of Mrs. Henshaw, was hostess at a smartly appointed tea. The occasion brought together many little groups of friends who had shared social courtesies together when the bride was Miss Ida Henshaw and before her marriage took her east to live for some time.

A quiet affair of Monday afternoon was the marriage of Miss Ingeborg Bassett Masters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Masters of Fairmont avenue, and Harlowe Terrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Terrill. The father of the bridegroom is an Oreville capitalist. The ceremony was read at high noon by Judge George Samuel, the couple being

Children's Week Stirs Enthusiasm

By GEORGIA G. BORDWELL.

Mother's are sending in their applications for appointments during the Children's Week, dozens of them every day, and every day the number increases, according to Mrs. Charles L. Froding, chairman for Oakland. "Well-to-do mothers, too, not only mothers to whom a doctor's fee looms as an obstacle, but mothers well able to pay for the care of their babies. They want to take advantage of this official weighing and measuring campaign and the committee is glad to receive all Oakland babies," said Mrs. Froding today.

In view of the interest that is being shown in this Children's Week, which begins next Monday, it is safe to say that the weighing and measuring test will receive a tremendous new era in child hygiene. Dr. Jessica Piexotto, professor of economics in the University of California, declares that this year—Children's Week—has by the interest it has aroused set the whole progress of child welfare ten years ahead.

ADOLPHIAN TO BE BCSY CLUB TOMORROW

Adolphian Club, Alameda, is going to have an exceedingly busy day tomorrow. At 10 a. m. the annual meeting at which officers will be elected will be held; the polls will be open from 10 to 12. During the morning annual reports of president, officers and curator will be presented. At noon a basket luncheon will be indulged in by those who have been in attendance all the morning and by such members as care to join the party. Thereafter luncheons after the annual election are always informal and gay, the retiring officers handing over the reins of government to the new officers bidding them good luck as they (the retiring ones) step out.

At 2 o'clock the regular union meeting will be held—the last one over which Mrs. Mildred Husbands, president, will preside. Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt of Mills College will speak on "The Poets of the War"—and those who have heard any of Dr. Reinhardt's Wednesday talks at Mills on present-day writers know that a treat is in store for the community. The Oakland Technical High School orchestra, Franklin Carter, director, will give the following program:

"Star Spangled Banner."
Overture, "The Golden Scepter."
Caprice, "Moon Madrigal."
Polish Dance, "Scharwenka Suite de Ballet," "Arabian Nights."

unattended. Harold H. Masters, a brother of the bride, with the army of occupation in Germany, was unable to attend the wedding. The honeymoon trip is to be through Sacramento valley and Lassen county, and their future home will be in this city.

PRETTY AFFAIRS OF THE MORROW

Several interesting parties are on for tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Harriet Danforth will entertain at her apartments in San Francisco for Mrs. Martin Wade, a number to cross the bay for the afternoon. Mrs. Frank Strangham will have a group of friends for luncheon and bridge at the Claremont Country club.

Miss Elizabeth Strong, Berkeley artist, who has recently returned from the east, entertained Sunday afternoon at a studio tea in her studio in Berkeley, when she exhibited new studies of Carmel, Gloucester, Maine, Pennsylvania scenes, and other new pictures.

BUILDING RUSHED

RICHMOND, April 2.—Building permits for homes totaling $2,000,000 were issued today by the city hall, indicating the building of new homes in most cases the work begins immediately.

the auspices of the Oral English department, while Mrs. Marion L. Stebbins is head. Others who have been heard in this series are President Reinhardt of Mills, Miss Florence Locke, Charles D. Von Neumann and Mrs. Stebbins. The public is cordially invited.

On the evening of the same day the sophomore class of Mills will present two plays, neither of which has been seen before on the Pacific Coast. "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" is acknowledged to be one of the cleverest farces in the English language, in spite of the fact that it is a translation from the French of Anatole France. "The Rising of the Moon," by Lady Gregory, deals with a fascinatingly interesting phase of Irish political life and acquires special significance because of the present Irish situation. For this performance, in Elisor hall, Friday evening, an admission charge of twenty-five cents will be asked.

The Oral English department and the sophomore class of Mills have combined to make this presentation a highly satisfactory and delightful one. It is the ambition of the department that next year even the nominal charge of twenty-five cents will not have to be asked to help defray the expenses of production, but that the performance may be one wholly without any commercial aspect whatsoever, the love which goes into the production of these plays by the young students enabling them to give to their friends and the friends of the college performances as good and better than many by professionals for which a fat admission charge is usually asked.

LUNCHEON IN HONOR OF FRICK TEACHERS

"One of the smartest affairs of the season"—as the regular society center says—was the luncheon which was tendered as a surprise to Frick teachers yesterday by the Frick Mothers' Club. In addition to the wonderfully beautiful spring flowers which adorned the table—a luncheon of the reports of which just make your mouth water—was served to the seven teachers, Mrs. Edward Mor-

can Jones, president of Oakland Federation, and Mrs. J. M. Evans, president of Frick Mothers' Club, were also included in the guest list. The teachers, who were duly surprised, were: Mrs. Margaret Moore, principal; Miss Marybeth Metzger, Miss Edith O'Brien, Miss Mabel Clarke, Miss Maude McCarty, Miss Jane E. Myers and Mrs. M. McCullough.

LAFAYETTE MOTHERS WILL GIVE PARTY

It is the custom of Lafayette Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. P. C. Smith, president, to give some sort of a "fund raising" affair every month, the proceeds of which are devoted to philanthropy. On Thursday evening, April 2, a whist party will be held at the home of Mrs. S. H. Haver, 1825 Castro street, to which club husbands and club friends are specially invited.

CLAWSON CLUB ANNOUNCES BUSINESS AND PLEASURE

An important business meeting, at which officers for the coming year will be elected, is called for Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Theo. Le Clair, president of Clawson Mothers' Club. On Friday evening this club will be hostess at an "April Shower" dance. Just what an April shower dance is remains as a surprise for those who attend.

The Mills Club of Alameda County will meet at the home of Mrs. Stephen J. Hill, Escondido and Arlington avenues, Berkeley, at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Alice Reed Cashman will present two of her pupils, Mr. Thurston Janz and Mrs. Asa Henion.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat, Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys are so excited, they cannot do their duty. They cannot help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backaches, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water, also from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then be all right. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here and there sell lots of cheap salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

AND LEASE TO JAPANESE BY MEXICO DENIED

MEXICO CITY, April 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Salvador Gomez, chief of staff of the Department of Agriculture and Development, officially has denied reports that Japanese subjects have bought lands in Lower California. His statement was issued on behalf of the department in the absence of the Mexican secretary of commerce, labor and agriculture. It reads as follows: "I can say that up to the present there has been no sale of lands in Lower California to Japanese subjects; neither has the Department of Development authorized anything giving foreigners rights to large extensions of land in that section."

"Moreover, since our constitution prohibits the sale of national lands, this department, in accord with President Carranza is giving special attention to all matters referring to Lower California territory."

ONE JAPANESE COLONY. Baron Fujiwara, Japanese minister to Mexico, tonight issued the following statement regarding the discussion over alleged attempts by Japanese interests to purchase lands in Lower California: "A temper in a tea pot has been created and I think the importance of this question is due to some political maneuver caused by the nearness of the next presidential campaign. It may be declared that there are no concessions in Lower California that favor the interests of my country."

Only near the term of Mexico exists a small Japanese agricultural colony that cultivates rice, but this is absolutely lacking in importance.

DRASTIC LAWS URGED. SACRAMENTO, April 2.—Two bills and a regulation affecting the interests of Japanese were placed before the California Senate yesterday. Senator Inman asked permission to introduce a bill which would amend the California anti-alien law to prevent Japanese leasing agricultural land in this state.

He also introduced a joint resolution urging American delegates to the peace conference to provide in the interests of nations engaged in the several nations, for themselves, shall control the subject of immigration and exercise such discrimination they see fit to preserve their population.

The resolution called attention to the conference for "free immigration" and declared that "free coming of non-resident Orientals would exterminate or destroy the white population of California and the Pacific Coast."

Permission to introduce a bill aimed at the "Japanese picture brides" was asked by Senator Duncan. His proposed bill would amend the California marriage laws to make this state refuse to recognize a picture bride as a wife.

WEBB TELLS NEEDS UNDER DRY LAWS

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—Passage of the bill by the assembly, authorizing the attorney-general to prosecute cases when a district attorney fails to act was recommended today by the Assembly Efficiency and Economy Committee. The bill is considered one of the important pending prohibition enforcement measures.

Attorney-General Webb told the committee the two additional deputies which would be provided by his office by the assembly bill would be insufficient to handle the additional work which would be assigned to him if Speaker Wright's bill to abolish the offices of attorneys for seven state commissions was passed. Three deputies would be needed to handle the work of the seven attorneys, Webb said. He said such deputies should be paid salaries of $1000 instead of $500, provided in the bill.

Action on the bill of T. M. Wright and Speaker Wright was postponed until Thursday night.

The Senate Judiciary Committee reported favorably Senator Kehoe's inheritance tax bill, according to John E. Chambers, state senator, who strengthens the law and reduces only one rate. A bill by Senator Gates, which Chambers said would reduce the state revenue on inheritance $1,000,000 a year, and the state revenue on which would be reduced in that on estates of $100,000 to $200,000. It was cut from twelve to ten per cent.

The Assembly yesterday passed one bill and on reconsideration of two other measures, rejected them for the second time.

Assemblyman Goring's bill to double the license fee of private employment agencies and to limit the fees they may charge for placing applicants for work to 10 per cent of the first month's pay passed. Baker gave notice of a motion for reconsideration.

An amendment proposed by Cleary to get the limit on fees teachers' employment agencies might charge cut to 10 per cent of the year's salary was lost 21 to 21. Price said the bill, unless amended, would put the teachers' agencies out of business.

Eden's resolution calling for an investigation into charges of dereliction of duty and "pernicious activity" on the part of the State Fish and Game Commissioners will be taken up Thursday by the Assembly Efficiency and Economy committee.

BABY'S BODY IN ROWBOAT. PITTSBURGH, April 2.—The body of a young infant was found yesterday in an empty rowboat docked at Pittsburgh's wharf in this city at an early hour. The entire town is aroused over the occurrence and local officers are working diligently on the case.

POLITICAL NOTES

The Oakland Women's Political club has opened permanent headquarters at 109 Bacon building and will hold a mass meeting there on Thursday at 1:30 p. m. All women candidates for election have been invited to be present at 2:30 p. m. and state their qualifications for the office they seek. At the following meeting all men candidates will be invited to attend the meetings. Following are the names of the committee in charge: Mrs. H. J. Platts, Mrs. F. H. Garcia, Mrs. E. A. Goggin, Mrs. J. Bird, Mrs. H. J. Cruz and Mrs. A. Montgomery.

"Talk about response to publicity," said Joseph H. King this morning. "I will state positively that since the announcement two days ago to establish a people's council after I am elected mayor, we have received thousands of endorsements by telephone, mail or verbally."

At the first regular meeting of the Oakland Women's Political club Stanton W. Lord, secretary of the club, was unanimously endorsed as its choice.

Harry G. Williams, candidate for city auditor and assessor, spoke at two big meetings last night at the Fruitvale school, and at the home of Mrs. Simpson in Western place. Williams spoke of his more than twenty years' experience in the welfare of Oakland and told of the many projects to which he gave his support for the betterment of Oakland. The slogan of his campaign committee, he declared, is "business man for business job."

Tonight at 8 p. m. the Socialist candidates will deliver their campaign speeches with the independent candidates. All candidates for mayor and commissioners have been invited, and interesting subjects will be discussed. A debate will be held at the hall on the northeast corner of Thirty-second and Linden streets and will be open to the public.

Commissioner W. H. Edwards, candidate to succeed himself as the head of the financial department of the city, in a speech last night said:

"When I was elected commissioner four years ago, I announced that I would devote all my time to the city, and I have kept that pledge. The record of the council will show very few meetings that I have missed. As a public official I have tried to do my duty sometimes under trying circumstances. There has been no connection with any other party. I now stand before my constituents to render an accounting of my term."

"I came to Oakland in 1876 and began work as a blacksmith at $2.50 a day. I still work hard today in my own business but have always found the time to help our city. For 43 years I have been a civic worker and a particularly proud of the fact that I was a member of the original committee which went to Sacramento more than twenty years ago to secure the passage through the legislature of a bill providing for a city and county government for Oakland. This would have resulted in a big saving to Oakland. I am just as vitally interested in this matter today as I was then."

"One very good example of the difficulty of fighting trusts was brought to my attention when I served on the bay cities food commission in an endeavor to distribute fish at a proper cost to the consumer. This was effective for a short time in reducing the price of fish 100 per cent, but this price did not hold very long because of the speculators thrown in the way by the fish trust. One fish man was arrested seven times by state and city officials and finally the fish was lost. I would certainly like the opportunity with the power of the city to bend me to make this fight again."

"I was a report to my own people," he said. "I believe I was justifying in every word I said. I apologize to no man for what I said. I was justifying the remarks I made in the afternoon session and were forewarned by an incident at the close of the morning session when Senator Scott asked Benson if he had made the remark."

WATERFRONT BILL $7,000,000 FUND UP TO GOVERNOR FOR NEVADA ROADS

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—Three Assembly bills providing for the construction of Nevada roads and the establishment of a fund of $7,000,000 for the construction of Nevada roads were passed by the Senate yesterday. The object of the bills was to enable the cities to grant "free" leases along their waterfronts. The bills now go to the governor for his signature before becoming effective.

The Senate passed thirty-five bills yesterday, among them being twenty-one measures appropriating money for state institutions and ten assembly bills.

Among the appropriation bills passed by the Senate and sent to the Assembly were the following: By Dorey, $50,000 for the construction of a cottage on the farm at Stockton state hospital.

By Rush, $50,000 for construction and equipment of quarters for employees at the state hospital.

By Slater, $50,000 to provide a permanent water supply for the Sonoma state home.

By Rominger, $10,000 for purchase of additional land for the Norwalk state hospital.

By Inman, $14,000 or purchase of additional land at Folsom penitentiary. A bill by Senator Rigdon amending the duties of the state mining bureau act, affecting the duties of the state oil and gas supervisor, was passed by the Senate. Rigdon said the measure "was a friendly compromise between the bureau and representatives of the bureau."

A bill by Assemblyman Doran making use of a red flag in aid of anarchistic or seditious activities a felony was passed by the Senate. It now goes to the governor.

The Senate also passed Assemblyman Miller's bill extending the benefits of the teachers' retirement salary fund to teachers in the California Polytechnic School, the Whittier State School, California State College for Women, the School of Industry, and the California School for Deaf and Blind.

Senator Harris' prohibition enforcement bill, passed by both houses, was before the Senate for conference. Assembly amendments to the measure, but no action was taken.

THIN BLOOD IS OFTEN CAUSE OF WEAK STOMACH

This Nebraska Woman Had An Experience That May Save Others From Suffering

The man who has no desire to eat, even though he knows that his body needs nourishment, is in a very bad way. But he is not alone. In the case of the man who craves food yet knows that if he eats even a small part of what he wants and needs he will be tortured for hours and deprived of sleep. Dizziness, inability to follow in such cases, as well as pains in the shoulders, headaches and, as the experience is repeated day after day, there is almost complete exhaustion of the body.

Stomach trouble of this kind is frequently caused by thin, weak blood. Good blood is absolutely essential to the digestive processes and until the blood is strong enough to perform its work the food which should nourish becomes a poison.

Mrs. George Priesz of No. 3209 R Street, Omaha, Nebraska, suffered for long time from indigestion and gained permanent relief. She says:

"I was first troubled with indigestion about four years ago and I kept getting worse all the time. I was very careful in selecting things to eat, but this didn't seem to help and the attacks became worse. I had smothering spells and palpitation of the heart, and I thought for a time it was heart trouble. Then I had attacks of gas, during which I became nervous."

"One day a friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to me and she spoke so highly of the treatment that I procured a box. After I had taken the remedy a few days I noticed that gas no longer bothered me and my heart was no longer troubled. Gradually my appetite improved and I gained strength and weight and I now feel as well as ever. My husband has taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for nervousness and he found them very beneficial and we are both glad to recommend them for we have great faith in the remedy."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic for the blood and nerves. They begin at once to build up the system weakened by excess or overwork. The rich, red blood soon begins to show in the cheeks and the complexion is brighter and the blood itself is felt in every organ of the body.

Two useful books, "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free to the reader who will send for them. Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If you cannot order them or your mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50.—Advertisement.

Tonight! Take Dodson's Liver Tonic! Better Than Calomel For Liver

Calomel sickens! If bilious, constipated and head-achy read my guarantee.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile, crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and all knocked out, if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents. Take a spoonful tonight, and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning, I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tonic is destroying the sale of calomel because it is a real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, and therefore it can not sallow or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic will put your sluggish liver to work and clean out the bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic will put your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.—Advertisement.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2, 1919.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL SITE.

Obstructionists find the State Legislature one of the most useful instruments for carrying out their schemes. To every worthy public project originating in or given effective approval by the Legislature there are at least nine worthy public projects killed or fatally delayed. Persons who for selfish reasons or out of pure obstinacy oppose an enterprise in which the general public is interested often refuse to take a popular vote as disposing of their case and then they go to the Legislature and find some amiable member to tie up the matter against all progress. Very often does the Legislature lend itself to the obstruc-tionist with an alacrity that is puzzling to the lay observer.

Take the proposal to build the new State Normal School building on a portion of the land which was the site of the 1915 exposition as an example.
A new normal school is said to be necessary; the State owns a large plot of ground on the Marina,
the site of the California building; a commendable public effort was pressed with measurable success in San Francisco to preserve at least a portion of the exposition site; the California building plot is in every way admirable for a State normal school; in conjunction with the Palace of Fine Arts it would mean the permanent beautification of that section of San Francisco's harbor front. A bill authorizing the use of the California building site for the new normal school was approved, almost unanimously, by the Legislature in 1916.

But now comes the Nealon bill at the present session of the Legislature as an attempt to nullify
all that has been accomplished and to kill absolutely the prospect of locating the new normal school on the Marina. The Nealon bill represents the obstructionists. They are a few individuals who are habitually on the negative side of every question, a few merchants and boarding house keepers who want to profit through the location of the school elsewhere, and a few private owners of land. They only simulate a popular sentiment against the Marina school site. They actually represent nothing and nobody but themselves.

Other cities are concerned in the factional;
quarrels and petty political moves of San Francisco only when they involve the general interest of the State. The fight against the Marina as a normal school site does concern all the people.
The State owns the land necessary to the buildings. A special act of the Legislature permits the application of the State's share of the balance from the exposition funds and the proceeds of the salvage of the California building to the construction of the normal school on this site. That means that the land has already been acquired and from $450,000 to $500,000 is on hand to defray the cost of the building.

If the obstructionists succeed in their present maneuver to kill the plan to erect the normal school on the Marina another site will have to be acquired, which a clique of land speculators undoubtedly is ready to offer. The State land on the Marina will be unused. The taxpayers will have to pay at least $1,000,000 more for the new school than they will if the Marina site is utilized.

Plainly it is the duty of the legislature to provide that the plan approved in 1916 be carried out with as little delay as possible. The people of the State expect that this will be done. They cannot contemplate with equanimity the legislature yielding supinely to a small and narrow group of obstructionists in San Francisco. There is no disposition to question the right of San Francisco to the new normal school, but that being conceded it is fitting that the school be constructed as economically as possible and located where it will render the greatest service. These requirements will be met by using the Marina site.

Illustrating how people suddenly awaken to a realization that they are creatures of habit, and that some of the habits are not based on entirely sound reason, is the decision in Alameda to discontinue ringing fire alarms when fires break out. Ringing fire alarms is a custom as old as organized effort to restrict fire loss. It is founded on the idea that everybody should be routed out and summoned to the scene whenever a fire breaks out. Somebody seems to have turned it over in his mind and concluded that the presence of crowds interferes with the firemen and by no possibility is helpful in the efforts to extinguish conflagrations. Hence, the tolling that informs everybody just where the excitement centers has been discontinued, and the firemen have a clear field in which to work. The ancient custom of ringing the fire bell is thus discovered to be not only unnecessary but detrimental. How many other customs are we following in a similar unthinking way?

SHIPS THE GREAT NEED.

Trade returns for this port for the month of February show a gratifying increase in the value of exports and a decrease in imports. During the month more goods were sent to Siberia, Japan, China, the Dutch East Indies and British Malaysia than during February, 1918, or during January, 1919. This may be accounted for by the fact that shipping accommodations, although not what they should be, were more ample and that, due to the lessening of war time restrictions, more commodities were available for export.
Premier Thomas Ryan of Australia, who is in San Francisco en route home, says there are in Australia ready for sale 300,000,000 bushels of wheat and 1,000,000 bales of wool as soon as shipping has been restored. These are only two principal items. Australia has on hand many other articles of export. The people of the Antipodes are also anxious to buy in the United States and in Europe vast quantities of manufactures as soon as they can obtain transportation facilities.
International and intercontinental trade in the Pacific basin is just beginning to feel a new ambition after the long period of lethargy super-induced by war conditions. The increase in exports from this port ought to be the beginning of an expansion in transpacific trade that will endure for many years. Australia needs only ships to stimulate commercial activities to make up for the long period of denial that has developed into actual want.

Manufacture of war material having stopped,

industry on all sides of the Pacific is turning as rapidly as possible to the products of normal life.

Government restrictions have been or soon will be removed. The great need everywhere is ships.

Japan occupies the most favorable position for meeting this need. She has the tonnage and the Tokyo government is keenly and energetically behind the efforts of the subsidized shipping companies to extend their already large advantages.

The Dutch steamship companies also are paying close attention to the situation and are trying to capture a large share of the transpacific trade.

The United States Government is doing practically nothing. No shipping policy has been adopted. It has released to the private owners only a portion of the ships commandeered from the Pacific. No government operated ships are being sent into the Pacific. There is talk by the Shipping Board officials about building up the trade between the United States and South America. Politicians of the administration promise the Southern States that an era of great prosperity in trade and shipping is upon them. But the Pacific is still neglected. Federal rail freight rates are still unreasonably high, despite the slight differential established for the benefit of manufacturers of the east-of-the-Mississippi section destined for export from Pacific ports.

Now is the time to strive for a fair share of transpacific commerce and a fair share of the business of transporting that commerce. Perhaps the federal government never will actively concern itself with this opportunity. But it should at least restore to private owners and operators every ton of merchant shipping it has seized, and at once. We have had many fair promises and much advertising of ambitious programs. But we need ships and enough freedom from legislative restrictions to permit their successful operation.

With the arrival in New York of the 363d Regiment of Infantry, 91st Division, the bay cities are scheduled to welcome within the next few days several hundred of their sons who fought the Hun. This regiment was organized at Camp Lewis almost exclusively of men from Northern California, the major portion hailing from San Francisco and the Eastbay district. It is the first unit of Pacific Coast men to return from overseas almost intact which engaged in actual fighting.
The 363d took part in wiping out the St. Mihiel salient last September, fought for several weeks in the Meuse-Argonne operations and just before the conclusion of the armistice was transferred to Belgium where it helped to force a passage of the River Scheldt. The 91st Division lost over 6000 men in killed and wounded. The "California Regiment" paid its share of the battle toll.

Rice acreage in California will show another splendid increase for the 1919 season. In Yolo County alone there will be between 30,000 and 33,000 acres of rice planted. Of this 13,000 acres along the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern railroad will be entirely new acreage. The heavy rainfall has greatly encouraged growers throughout Central and Northern California. There is every prospect that ample water for growing the crops will be available and that all records in California rice production will be broken this year is a foregone conclusion.

NOTES and COMMENT

Attorney General Palmer "declines private help in espionage work." Palmer is a new broom.
That has not been the custom at all in the cabinet. Take for instance, the dictagraph matter in San Francisco. Secretary Wilson called in a lot of private help, or permitted it to be in. Perhaps the attorney general had this in mind.

Of the 1826 bills before the legislature, but 36 have got through to the governor, and but 12 of these have received the executive signature. A tremendous glist goes into the hopper and a very small result comes out—and some of this does not test high.

The latest news from Seattle is interesting. Thieves broke into a federal appraiser's store and stole $75,000 worth of whiskey. It was done in the surreptitious manner of backing a dray up to the doors, taking the stuff aboard and hauling it off. For a bone-dry country this must be regarded as some achievement.

A pot measure of the governor's would abolish seven attorneyships.
It is going to be a terrible struggle to lose so many jobs. If the governor triumphs it will afford evidence that he has things tolerably in hand.

Attention is directed to the antitippling bill principally because it has passed the Senate by a vote of 52 to 2. Few bills go through so decidedly. This measure would make it obligatory to print on menus and post on the walls a statement that the proprietors participate in the division of gratuities.
There are many who are willing to see a prevailing and frequently unpleasant custom headed off in this way.

The sensational statements to the effect that Japan has acquired rights in Lower California may be disproved, but they illustrate the desirability of acquiring that strip of coast and thus doing away forever with any such possibility.

The one-time crown prince gives direct testimony to the effect that he is not an idiot. However, the cross-examination is to come yet.

The cynical assertion that the legislature is trying to regulate everything is of course wrong. Late advice tell how the Assembly dropped from the gains bill the provision that made it a misdemeanor to shoot whistles.

"Police baffled by calm prisoner."
Has it come to pass when calmness is baffling? There may have been a sort of sense that we are edging along that way, but it was not generally understood that we had arrived.

The only sort of argument that will be understood in Hunland is that made by an advancing army.
Soft words are all right sometimes,
but the Hun realizes as potent only the guttural thunder and the ruthless way.

What will perhaps become commercial classics are Food Director Westcott's advertisements. "The one requiring a greater consumption of baby lima beans, for instance—with recipes for the different ways they may be made into a glorious luxury—will probably shine as the chiefest in splendor. The principal interest now may lie in the fact that the state is doing it.

Standardization of textbooks used in California high schools, so that one set of books would be used by pupils wherever they attended school, and state printing of these and "textbook" textbooks used in grammar schools are recommendations of the annual report of Robert L. Telfer, superintendent of state printing. Telfer suggests that a board of competent educators books—Sacramento Union.

The method adopted by the sheriff of Butte county of advertising the fact that a certain restless young woman who had fallen into his custody wanted a husband was a thoroughly practical procedure and would have solved a difficult situation to the satisfaction of all concerned, but for the misadventures of straight-jacketed women of the shocked and who had nothing to offer except criticism.—Chicago En-

It is possible that the bill, defeated in the assembly after it had been approved in the Senate, for the destruction of noxious weeds on public highways at the expense of the adjacent landowners, was not well considered, but the principle involved in the bill is one that the agricultural part of the community must face and solve. The intensity of the struggle for vision can not be denied. The general public can not longer endure the existence of pest merely because certain members of a community are indifferent to them. Pests are a common possession of mankind, and the individual that harbors a rat or a growth of Johnson grass is as much a source of plague to his fellowmen as the man who flaunts other forms of filth or disease in the faces of his neighbors.—Fresno Republican.

Frequenters of the city council chamber have always feared that if a woman was elected to the council
it would be necessary to discontinue smoking during council sessions.
Maybe it wouldn't be that bad. Mrs.

recently seconded a motion to allow smoking at a morning session of the legislature. She's a "regular zel-

THE ALLIED ANSWER

WALLOONS AND FLEMINGS

The report that Malmédy, a Walloon settlement in the Rhine province of Prussia, is to be allotted to Belgium by the peace conference has aroused interest in the two Belgian peoples—the Walloons and the Flemings.

Dr. Edwin A. Grosvenor, in a communication to the National Geographic Society, describes these two elements of the brave little nation's population as follows:

"The kingdom of Belgium dates from 1830, when the seven Catholic provinces revolted from distasteful union with the kingdom of The Netherlands. A spirit of independence, of resentment at injustice, of determination to maintain rights, has always animated this heroic people.

"The ancient Belgae occupied all Gaul north of the Seine and west of the Rhine. Rheims, Soissons, Amiens and Beauvais perpetuate the names of the Remi, Sue-siones, Ambiani and Belovaci, their warlike tribes, who fought against Caesar.

"The Belgians now comprise two main factors—the Walloons and the Flemings.

"The Walloons, from a common Teutonic word meaning foreign, are found in Southern Belgium, where are Liege and Namur, upon the Meuse, in the French department of Nord, with its cities of Lille, Douai, Cambrai and Valenciennes, and in a few Flemish villages. They speak French and have a strong attachment to France.

"The Flemings are more numerous and occupy the greater part of the kingdom and of the coast of Nord, with Dunkirk. They speak Flemish, a German dialect. Originally German in lineage, they are above all intensely national and have equaled the Walloons in courage and devotion. During the last war
the Germans resorted to every artifice to alienate them from the Wal-loons, but without avail.

"In 1910, of the 7,571,000 Belgians, 3,221,000 spoke only Flemish,
2,333,000 only French, and $11,000
both French and Flemish. The Belgian government at first opposed official use of Flemish, but in 1873 it was made equal with French in the courts and administration and in 1883 in the schools. The Flemish provinces were made bi-lingual.

"Full religious liberty is enjoyed.
The great majority of the people are presumably Roman Catholic, but since 1881 no questions are asked at the census regarding communion or profession.

"At the beginning of the world war, in 1914, the area of the kingdom was 11,373 square miles. A conference of the great powers in 1831 determined the boundaries between Belgium and The Netherlands.
Though obliged by circumstances to recognize Belgian independence, the conference did not sympathize with the authors of a revolution. In consequence, the boundary line was traced to the disadvantage of the Belgians. To the Dutch were assigned peoples east of the Meuse, who were strongly pro-Belgian, also both banks of the Scheldt, thus cutting off approach by sea to the great port of Antwerp except through Dutch waters. One cannot doubt that this injustice will be rectified.

"Sixteen years ago in his 'Living Races of Europe,' Hutchinson said:
'Travery, intelligence and energy are strong as ever in the Belgians. They excel in the arts of peace, as formerly they were proficient in the arts of war.' They now present an attractive picture of a prosperous, peaceable and thoroughly comfortable little people."

"The first two sentences are still true, only intensified. The picture of the last sentence it is the privilege of Europe and America to restore."

But the fact remains that there are still ten cents in a dime and ten dimes in a dollar. The huge sums still being spent by the American government do not become smaller merely because officials in Washington have talked so much in billions that they have come to like the sound of the word.

The people were entirely willing to see money spent rapidly during the war. Victory was the one thing to be secured, even at the risk of waste and extravagance in securing
it. But the war is over now, and a great number of people are paying taxes. There will be a more insistent demand on Congress for economy during the next year or two than at any period in the recent history of the United States.—Chen-neth Times-Star.

Beneath our glistening axe,
And all the joys of earth are ours—

CHAUFFEUR'S SUICIDE REED CASE ANGLE

Suicide of Fletcher Merrweather, a chauffeur, in circumstances that indicate he may have had guilty knowledge of the late Elizabeth Reed death, has brought another angle into this much-angled case. That Merrweather is the chauffeur whose arrest has been expected since the arrest of Dr. Ephraim Northcott, is denied by Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson of San Francisco who, however, declined to discuss the probability that fear of becoming involved was the cause of the suicide.

Merrweather, who was 28 years old, had been employed by the First Avenue Garage at First Avenue and Geary street. He hanged himself some time between midnight and 5 o'clock this morning, and in the room were the first editions of the San Francisco morning papers, indicating that he had been reading of the expected arrest of the chauffeur who drove the car in which the Oakland nurse went to her death in a house near San Mateo, and later drove the body to a lonely spot on the Crystal Springs road where the corpse was thrown into a gulch.

WILL CLEAR MYSTERY
With Dr. Northcott in jail, and Mrs. Frances Cronin, his nurse, ready to testify against him, the police insist that every detail of the month-old mystery will be cleared up within forty-eight hours. The chauffeur who will be arrested within that time, according to Captain Matheson, will provide the evidence necessary to bring about the arrest of the man who is responsible for the condition that led Miss Reed to take the step that resulted in her death.

Mrs. Cronin, who was inclined to be defiant yesterday after she had been released from custody, and who denied that she had any knowledge of the case, has admitted now, according to the San Francisco police, that she arranged certain details connected with the leasing of the house at 615 Highland avenue, San Mateo, where the operation was performed. It is contended by the police that the man responsible for Miss Reed's condition was to defray all the expenses of leasing the house, and that the only object in so doing was to have a secret place for the operation to be performed and for Miss Reed to recover her health, supposing the operation to be followed by no serious results.

NURSE TO TESTIFY
Despite the fact that detectives have found in the fireplace of the house what are asserted to be fragments of certain articles known to have been in the possession of Miss Reed at the time she left the home of Mrs. Maude Frankfield in Oakland, Dr. Northcott appears unperturbed by his position. He is in custody of the San Mateo county authorities.

"The Reed case will be cleaned up within the next 48 hours," Captain Matheson said this morning, "and mean by that we expect to have the driver of the death car in custody by Friday night." When asked if Mrs. Frances Cronin, Dr. Northcott's nurse, would testify for the state in spite of her defiance of the police yesterday, Matheson said: "Mrs. San Mateo, saw a 'dark red touring car' standing in front of the house

ANNOUNCEMENT

Our new Spring Models in Stetson, Borsalino and Derbies are here and awaiting your inspection at the time. His description of the car tallies with the description of a car seen on the Crystal Springs road on the morning of March 7, the time when it is thought Miss Reed's body was thrown into the ravine.

GET FINGER PRINTS
In the upper room of the house the police found two whisky flasks and a milk bottle. On all three were finger prints. Through these the police expect to be able to establish whether they were made by Miss Reed or Mrs. Frances Cronin, who will be the most important witness of the prosecution, according to the police, and who is alleged to have been employed by Dr. Northcott as a nurse and to have been present when the accused doctor performed the operation with which he is charged.

Mrs. Cronin, according to the police, contracted for the gas at the Highland avenue house a few days before the dead body of Miss Reed was found. According to an admission alleged to have been made by Mrs. Cronin she went to the San Mateo house and contracted for gas and light for the property, and at Dr. Northcott's suggestion gave the name of Miss F. Frances. Handwriting experts are examining the signature on the gas and light order and are comparing it with that of Mrs. Frances Cronin.

It is developed yesterday that Dr. Northcott had taken an option on the San Mateo house. On March 2 he gave a check for $500 to S. A. Born to bind the deal. Later the check was found not to be negotiable and the payment was made good with cash.

Attorney J. R. Cunningham announced yesterday that he was acting as Dr. Northcott's counsel. He went to the Redwood City jail last night to take the first steps in an effort to release the accused physician on bail.

MISSING WIDOW IS SOUGHT HERE

Mrs. May Chodwick, wealthy widow who was missing mysteriously from the Coast since March 1, is being sought by police here. The disappearance of Mrs. Chodwick was reported by her husband, who had left her a few minutes previously to go to a "business" where he was to meet a friend. The police are looking for her in the city.

At the time of her disappearance Mrs. Chodwick had $500 worth of diamonds and $250 in her purse. It was not until Monday that the Chicago police found out an alarm and police officers began to search for the missing woman. She had lived in California and was believed to be somewhere in the state.

MELLINGCOFF HAS EASTERN BOMB RECORD

New activity on the part of the federal authorities here in connection with the influx of I. W. W.'s and alleged Bolsheviks were indicated today by the announcement that Deputy U. S. Marshal Thomas Stull and Deputy U. S. Attorney E. H. Johnston are to be immediately assigned to the investigation and prosecutions of the cases of I. W. W. and kindred suspects.

The police here have received additional information of the activities in the past of Pavel Mellingcoff, who is being held on a presidential warrant, and who is suspected of having been involved in the Greenwood bomb murder case.

A letter from Chief William Getman, of Clinton, New Jersey, giving Mellingcoff's police record, was contained in the following:

"Under the name of Paul Mellico he was arrested April 22, 1917, for making seditious remarks and acting suspiciously in the vicinity of manufacturing establishments. Upon investigation a number of bombs were found among his personal belongings in his room at Teubling, New Jersey, and turned over to the Department of Justice, and no indictment being found against him, he was released."

The investigation of Mellingcoff in the east is being handled by Superintendent Todd Daniels of the Bureau of Investigation at Philadelphia, which is co-operating with special agent in charge, E. A. Hamford of the local intelligence bureau.

GOODMAN RELEASED
With a threat to impose a sentence of six months if he came before him again, Judge J. J. Sullivan today released Isaac Goodman, a member of the I. W. W. and friend of Mellingcoff, who was taken into custody when he came to a gambling table in the Greenwood hotel. Mellingcoff was first arrested. Goodman is an American citizen and a detective who was being sought here by the neutrality squad.

LEFT WITHOUT CLEWS
Three threats the Oakland police were following in their investigation of the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. George Greenwald, wife of the Oakland banker, lost her life, snapped today, leaving the local authorities once more without clues in the mystery.

All witnesses who saw the mysterious stranger who was said to have left the neighborhood just before the explosion of March 1 have failed to identify the person of David Stull, who is now being sought by the police.

Kaplan's Bond Cut; Liberties Extended
SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—The bond of Nathan F. Kaplan, wealthy diamond importer, who has a summer home at Santa Cruz, and who has been arrested as a suspected German agent, was reduced from $100,000 to $25,000 today by Special War Attorney John W. Preston at the request of Kaplan's attorney, Gay McKee.

At the same time the parole limit of Kaplan's bond, which has heretofore included the municipal limits of Santa Cruz, was extended to include all of the county. The new security, which was in liberty bonds, was executed by Commissioner Francis Krull.

Their former positions are open for ALL of our boys who left our employ to enter the service of our country. Six have returned — we want them all back.

BAREFOOT COP WISHES HE HAD POOR HEARING

As Auto Patrolman J. L. Chamberlain rubber-cushioned along Fruitvale avenue in his flivver he caught the furtive sound of muffled commotion in the rear of Anderson's grocery store at Hopkins street. He stopped his car quietly and, to be doubly safe, he took off his shoes. Nimbly grasping his revolver and bringing it to the position of "raise pistol" in the most approved military manner, Chamberlain puffyfooted through the alley that led to the rear of the store.

The commotion in the shed increased. Chamberlain suppressed his emotion. When a burglar is the prize one must keep a clear head.

Suddenly the door burst open. Chamberlain swore that two shells from a remarkably high-powered gun knocked him down as they whizzed past.

The policeman on the next heat reports he saw a dog chasing a skunk—speed 70 miles an hour.

Chamberlain is looking for a new suit of clothes today.

GAMBLING LAW AGAIN DELAYED

After waiting half an hour today the city council adjourned for lack of a quorum. Mayor Devine and Commissioner W. H. Edwards and E. P. Jackson being absent.

"I guess my anti-gambling ordinance passed," remarked Commissioner E. P. Morse. "I notice that two of them were not here yesterday when the matter was scheduled to come up."

However, I have no objection to its being held over until after the primary. The anti-gambling ordinance, designed to prohibit any gambling or gaming for anything of value, from a raffle of a pink silk pillow at a social to a game of "stud poker" in a gambling house, has been filed with the council and will not be brought up, Morse says, until there is a full council present, that every man in the council may be placed on record by voting on it.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.
SAN JOSE, April 2.—L. Howe, secretary to the civil service commission, has prepared examinations to be held April 10 for positions for junior and senior laborers.

MAN WEDS ON "DEATH" BED; MAY RECOVER

Charles Fife, patrol driver, thirteen years a member of the Oakland police department, was married last night on what was believed to be his death bed. He then settled his estate on his wife, Elizabeth Jane Bohman, who became Mrs. Fife, has been nursing him since his sudden illness of last Saturday when he was stricken by double pneumonia. They had been friends for several months.

The property which Fife settled upon his wife in case of his death consisted of $2250 police fund insurance and a house and lot at 1348 Eighty-eighth avenue, where he lives. Fife was divorced about a year ago and at that time transferred considerable property to his former wife.

He entered the police department in 1902. For several years past he has been driver of a patrol. Today there was said to be a fair chance for his recovery.

Says Many Cruelties Crowded Into Month
Mrs. Helen Collins, wife of Dan J. Collins, a boiler-maker, catalogues a list of grievances against her husband accumulated during their one short month of domesticity. Through her attorneys, Harris & Shay, she filed suit for divorce today, alleging that during that month, from September, 1918, to November he nagged at her, told her he did not love her, remained out late at night, became intoxicated, choked her, backed his sister when the latter threatened to kill her, associated with other women illicitly, left her at a San Francisco hotel and never returned, and struck her one day on the street.

Mrs. Elizabeth Leith says John E. Leith Jr. for divorce alleging cruelty. He is a limekeeper in a San Francisco department store. They reside at 364 15 street. There is one child.

Mrs. Edna Hunt alleges cruelty against Thomas A. Hunt in her divorce complaint today.

SLEUTHETTE
GOES; THEFT
IS RESUMED

Truth is out. The sleuthette who has been detailed to find the bold, had burglars who visited the Claremont Hotel last Friday afternoon and absconded with jewelry and clothing of Mrs. Emily T. Spring and Mrs. Blanche Raas, have been confounded. The loot was worth several hundred dollars.

"Some of your finest recognize me," said the clever woman when the management had ceased to the exclusive hostility for a short five days' visit.

"How should they know you?" asked the bewildered management.

"We have met before," she grinned. If so proper a lady could be accused of so ordinary an emotion, touching her star.

"What—not any one here in the hotel?" gasped the management.

"Even so," said she. "We have had arguments over jewelry and treasures which disappeared from a local department store. I usually won the point, so they never forgot me. We never even had to go into court. They were women who could afford to pay."

"But the moral question," said the mere presence of the woman detective at the Claremont Hotel afforded five eventual days in the current history of the hotel. It furnished an excuse in the continued and persistent campaign of petty thefts and annoyances which has been going on for many months.

The woman who is expert in her line of work, was loaned the hotel as an experiment. Her services ended on Thursday night. Friday afternoon one of the boldest burglars was committed. Indignations are being offered to her to return.

Well, the "sleuthette" recognized some of the women with "touching" ways when she had been in the hotel. "Now what?" asked the management, and guests.

There are some of them who are calling her "honey" and wishing her all sorts of good luck.

Presto, she may even yet return!

Bad Old "Pelican" Appears Again, This Time Censored

PURSUING HIS STUDIES

Double Tragedy
Inquest to Be Set

Coroner Grant D. Miller probably will set a date this evening for the inquest of Mrs. Lenora Feldon Tardino, 16-year-old bride, and Joe Tardino, her husband, victims of a double tragedy last Monday when Tardino shot his wife and then killed himself in the Overland restaurant, First and Broadway. Mrs. Tardino was the daughter of John Feldon, an employee of the hotel above the restaurant, conducted by Mrs. Rose Vadney. Mrs. Vadney said she had not known the girl long, but from what she had seen of her since she came to live at her hotel she believed she was a very good girl.

"Wicked" Poem Is Inked Over by U. C. Authorities After Magazine Is Printed

At last has the grim hand of the censor descended upon a vengeance upon the spicy pages of "The Pelican," the University of California comic magazine.

After months of sensationalism, the magazine of the gay "old bird" is today a dull, drab, and lifeless thing. The editors of the magazine, who had been told that the magazine was to be published, have been told that the magazine is to be published.

Some selections:

Here are a few other selections from the still spicy pages of the college monthly.

Berkley's dry as dry can be. It's full of struggles over tea. San Francisco ain't, you see.

Berkley's women are most mild—Pure and guileless like a child. San Francisco's dams are wild.

To eat S. F. I mightly fear. I know it makes you women swear: But I have to live over there.

Sing a song of tri-angles. Willingness to buy. Four and twenty pickems. To your arms will fly.

THAT BAD POEM.

And here is the verse that was censored but not so censored that it cannot be deciphered by patients and a few night.

CHINATOWN.

'Tis a place with its sights and And a wicked tale that the poet tells.

Prices the city, where the dreamers dream dreams. There I may wander over a hill. Watch as the father bird. Where the towering sun of the big west gleams.

There're souls that are black in Chinatown. Here I may wander over a hill. A cut-throat and a robber meet. For the sum of the earth is here holed down.

There's plenty of dope in the gambling holes. Here white the wharf rats sink below. Where men for opium go. And women barter and sell their souls.

And there's sin a-burking in the fog. Men and women scramble for gold. And scheme and rob till their life is in the dirt, old town where the breezes blow.

'Tis a wicked tale that the poet tells. Of this pagan place with its sights and smells.

WOMAN MISSING;
LIKEWISE $600

A woman and $600.50 are missing from the home of Rafael Alvarez, 254 Myrtle street, Alvarez told the police he doesn't mind so much that the woman is gone. He had known her only four months and they were not yet married. But it had taken him a lifetime to save the $600.50 and he wants the police to help him recover it.

When Alvarez returned home from work last night he found the house ransacked. In the window where he had kept his money, which consisted of four $20 pieces, $25 in currency and $4.50 in silver, he found nothing.

Neither, he told the police, did he find Gavita Estrada, nor her daughter, Anita, who have been living there for four months.

Thomas Gosland, whose wife and two small children disappeared from their home February 2, made an other report to the police today to help him find them. Neither he nor the police have found any trace of them since their mysterious disappearance. Gosland is distracted by the breaking up of his home. He has sold his house and furniture on Fourteenth street and is now living at the St. Mark Hotel.

RETURN HERE

The first troops to cross the Isthmus and the first troops to occupy German territory to return to the United States are represented in the 29 members of the 29th Engineers who arrived in Oakland mole at midnight last night and who were held at the pier until 8:30 a. m. today when the custom workers of Oakland chapter, American Red Cross, served them with breakfast.

"You don't know how good home looks to us. The most beautiful sight we have seen was the California people after we crossed the ridge," declared Sergeant V. D. Holey, 2617 Telegraph avenue, "and the best people we have met are the Red Cross women, not forgetting the Oakland women."

ON FILING FRONTS.

The 29th Engineers were on the firing fronts longer than any other outfit, having 159 days to their credit and service on every line of defense, from the Isthmus to the front of the action and participated in all the great battles which were fought after the United States joined the allied cause. Most of the 29 who came in last night wear "round stripes" but all have recovered.

Larry Van Sanders, formerly connected with the staff of the Oakland Orpheum and well known insurance man, was among the Oaklanders who arrived with the 29th, which will be demobilized at the Presidio within a few days.

The largest single contingent of troops to arrive will come in 15th Cavalry numbering about 3000 men will pass through the Oakland mole en route to Honolulu. The outfit has been ordered from Fort Douglas, Arizona, to the Islands.

A party of 129 civilians will be welcomed at the Red Cross hut at the pier tonight when 129 overseas men arrive at 8:20 p. m. over the Santa Fe.

WAR HEROES ARRIVE.

One of the government's new hospital cars arrived in San Francisco last night bringing twenty-nine war heroes for treatment at Letterman Hospital. The "Tank Corps" and the First Gas and Flame Regiment, the only American regiment of its kind to see action, were represented as well as artillery and infantry. The British, French and American units.

Private W. H. Williamson, of Stella, Washington, member of the famous "Lost Battalion" which fought under "The Hell" (Charles W.) Whittlesey, which went into Argonne Forest with 600 men and came out with less than 250, was one of the interesting personalities who arrived yesterday at Letterman Hospital with twenty-eight casualties direct from the debarkation hospital at Phoenix, Fla. Two weeks after Whittlesey had sent his famous reply to the Germans and won his battle name, the remnant of the "Lost Battalion" was in action. It was then Williamson was gassed and ordered to the hospital.

TECH. ALUMNI TO MEET.

There will be a meeting of the Alumni association of the Technical high school in the school building, Forty-fifth and Broadway, at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. The meeting will be for the election of officers and to discuss plans for a theater party to be held at the Fulton playhouse in the near future.

"BAYER CROSS" ON ASPIRIN

Always Ask for Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin"

Only Aspirin Tablets with the safety "Bayer Cross" on them are genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," because made by Americans and proved safe by millions of people. Unknown quantities of fraudulent Aspirin Tablets were sold recently by a Brooklyn dealer which proved to be composed mostly of Talcum Powder.

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" should always be asked for. Then look for the safety "Bayer Cross" on the package and on each tablet. Accept no other else. Proper directions and dosage in each Bayer package.

Aspirin is the trade-mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoacetic acid ester of Salicylic acid.—Advertisement.

The Best Cough Medicine.

When a druggist finds that his customers all speak well of a certain preparation, he forms a good opinion of it and when in need of such a medicine is almost certain to use it himself in his family. This is why so many druggists use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in their families. I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for the past seven years and have found it to be the best cough medicine I have ever known.—For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Co.—Advertisement.

New Tideland Lease Bill Drafted
Government Island Case Covered

ALAMEDA, April 2. — Another piece of tideland legislation is to be submitted at Sacramento, hearing on the government island lease to the United States Shipping Board by Alameda and Oakland. This bill was given approval by the Alameda city council last night after assurance by City Attorney W. J. Locke that the measure had been drafted to replace previous bills, considered by the city council, and was not intended to municipal control of tidelands.

The city attorney said that the measure had been drafted and approved by Mayor Greene Majors and City Manager C. E. Heyes of Alameda, Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure of Alameda, City Attorney Jackson and Commissioner Frederick Soderberg of Oakland, and members of the chambers of commerce of Alameda and Oakland.

The bill provides that the State of California may lease its interest, if any, in Government island to the United States Shipping Board, under the same terms and conditions as the island was leased by the State, or that the provisions of the act, are not an acknowledgment or admission of ownership or jurisdiction by the State. The act is also specifically not a validation act.

The council was informed that the measure would meet the request of the United States Shipping Board for some such action concerning the leases of Oakland and Alameda, and that it was positively any possible portion of Government island not within the boundaries of the two cities, now a part of the former Alameda city charter.

ter specifically to follow earlier boundary descriptions, is held by the attorney for the shipping board to have raised a possible situation whereby a moon shaped piece of the island might be outside the jurisdiction of either Oakland or Alameda.

The council talk drifted on to boundary descriptions. City Manager C. E. Heyes said that the boundary was fixed as far back as 1855 by the supervisors in fixing boundaries of Brooklyn and Alameda townships, before Oakland was in Brooklyn township. The boundary line then was the center of the north or deepest channel and was so depicted on maps and so recognized by the legislature. The same boundary line is recognized in the latest Alameda and Oakland charters. But the earlier charter of Alameda appears to be vague in its north Alameda boundary line description.

The council will take up two weeks hence a petition for a change of zone regulation, so that a public garage on Union street may be rebuilt. It will also take up a proposed change of fire limits on Webster street. Permanent construction is now required and it is held that this type of construction is holding back development of the area and is sufficient to warrant permanent building.

City Attorney W. J. Locke and City Engineer C. E. Hickok were appointed members of the Harbor Water Commission to take the places of former City Attorney Judge A. F. St. Sure and former City Attorney Barrett.

The city manager was instructed to call for bids for grading the old farm road property, now a part of the Washington park area.

George E. Sheldon, 420 Fourteenth street, manager for the Blks' Salvation Army campaign for funds, announced yesterday that a great many of the promised subscriptions had not materialized.

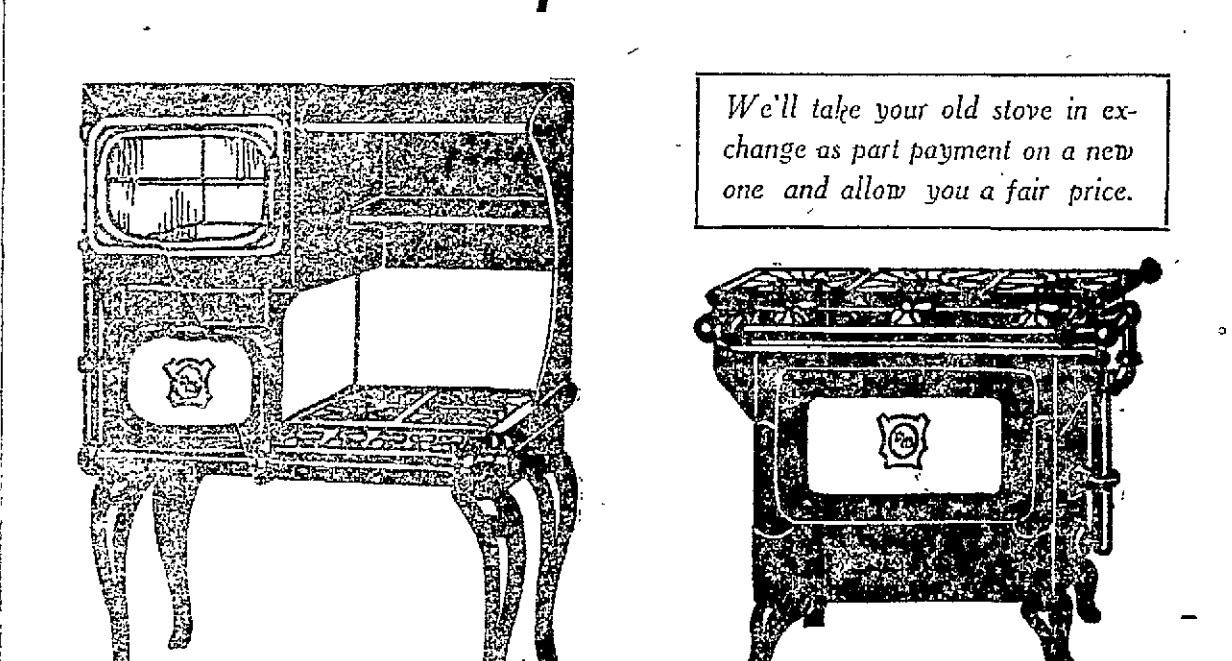

"If people who have them will 'phone me at Lakeside 4481 I will arrange to have them called upon," he declared.

The members of the Women's Army working under the leadership of Mrs. R. C. Young, collected over $4000. Mrs. Young was assisted in the work by Mrs. Caroline Hammond Hillie colonel in the woman's organization.

Mrs. S. A. Lovejoy, a major, was the first woman to report her district. Mrs. Fred Sherman scored the largest contribution, which amounted to $700. This included a check for $200 from Mrs. E. A. Goff.
